I'm researching O'Neils and Dolans who lived in Troy. I've developed a lot of information but have not been able to determine the Irish county of origin. My gg grandparents were Michael and Sarah (nee Kelly) O'Neil. Michael was born in Ireland in 1834 and Sarah in 1840. They lived in Boston in 1859 when their son and my g grandfather Michael was born. They had more children in Boston up through 1867 when their son Thomas was born in Troy. Michael worked as a teamster in Troy and died there in 1887. He's buried in St. Peters. Sarah died in 1902 at 422 First Street. She is buried in St. Joseph's. I think that Michael had a slightly older brother named James who may have preceded him to Troy.

James died at 1459 Fifth Avenue in 1898 and is at St. Peter's. I believe that Michael and James' parents were James O'Neil and Johanna Flynn. Michael and Sarah's son Michael was a laundryman at 547 River.

He married Rebecca Dolan in the early 1880ies. Michael died in 1902 a few months before his mother did. He lived at 2608 Fifth Avenue and is buried at St. Joseph's. Rebecca lived until 1934. She was born in Ireland but came to Troy in the 1880ies. I believe she had a brother James who preceded her to Troy. Her parents were William Dolan and Ann Rutledge. Rebecca's son William married Margaret Wallingford in 1910.

He died at 33 in the flu epidemic in Troy in 1918. William and Margaret's children include my mother and my Uncle Bill who was mayor of Troy in the 1970ies.

I'm afraid I've searched naturalization records and some obituaries without luck so far on where the O'Neils and Dolans came from in Ireland. I'd be grateful for any ideas or suggestions. Thanks, David O'Brien

It would probably help if you would provide the URL or a link to it.

Hi Everyone,

I was just wondering if anyone is out there. Haven't seen much from TIGS lately. I was visiting Donna last night and she was saying that she has a lot of good stuff for her presentation on Green Island for the Oct meeting.

Of course she would not give me any hints on what she had. Anyone have any luck lately? I have been chasing a few things but nothing have materialized.

Bill,

I am so sorry that I am just today, reading your e-mail. I was not able to access e-mail while on vacation. I did make it to Troy and found Jason at St Joseph's Cemetery. He found every one of the people St Joseph's Church had a record of burial at the cemetery. I had wonderful luck with the Church records. A very kind gentleman, the administrator, copied every Moran card from his file. I gave a donation for his generous efforts. I then went to the cemetery and found Jason, a DEAR young man. He found all the graves for me and took about 1 1/2 hours with me. What a jewel of a man! I honestly think someone should copy that list he has of all the graves. The paper is deteriorating and more than one person should have a copy. It would also be most advantageous if Jason could draw a map of the cemetery plots. That, to, should be shared with the church and available for copying. The cemetery is in pretty good shape compared to some of the graves I found at St Agnes in Menands. But I'm sure the cemetery could use some influx of donations. They could sell the grave map for $1 or more. I'm sure many would pay for it.

Many Thanks for all your help. And, I'm so sorry I missed meeting you. You made my trip so much fun, rewarding and stress free. Thanks for all your help.

Subject: RE: [TIGS] Research trip to Troy Oct 2004

I'm researching O'Neils and Dolans who lived in Troy. I've developed a lot of information but have not been able to determine the Irish county of origin. My gg grandparents were Michael and Sarah (nee Kelly) O'Neil. Michael was born in Ireland in 1834 and Sarah in 1840. They lived in Boston in 1859 when their son and my g grandfather Michael was born. They had more children in Boston up through 1867 when their son Thomas was born in Troy. Michael worked as a teamster in Troy and died there in 1887. He's buried in St. Peters. Sarah died in 1902 at 422 First Street. She is buried in St. Joseph's. I think that Michael had a slightly older brother named James who may have preceded him to Troy.

James died at 1459 Fifth Avenue in 1898 and is at St. Peter's. I believe that Michael and James' parents were James O'Neil and Johanna Flynn. Michael and Sarah's son Michael was a laundryman at 547 River.

He married Rebecca Dolan in the early 1880ies. Michael died in 1902 a few months before his mother did. He lived at 2608 Fifth Avenue and is buried at St. Joseph's. Rebecca lived until 1934. She was born in Ireland but came to Troy in the 1880ies. I believe she had a brother James who preceded her to Troy. Her parents were William Dolan and Ann Rutledge. Rebecca's son William married Margaret Wallingford in 1910.

He died at 33 in the flu epidemic in Troy in 1918. William and Margaret's children include my mother and my Uncle Bill who was mayor of Troy in the 1970ies.

I'm afraid I've searched naturalization records and some obituaries without luck so far on where the O'Neils and Dolans came from in Ireland. I'd be grateful for any ideas or suggestions. Thanks, David O'Brien

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

On September 24, 2004, TIGS members were told about the new transcription project of death and marriage records on 74 pages contained in a folder that was part of the Burden Record collection. These records were cut out of Troy newspapers and cover the period March 1880 to April 1895. This project, unlike the Burden Payroll Records, which had to be done onsite at the Rensselaer County Historical Society, can be done at home on your computer.

To date fourteen volunteers, mostly from the Capital area, but others from Utah, Iowa, North Carolina and Massachusetts, have responded to the request for transcribers. A number of the pages of the death records have already been data entered and are awaiting proofreading. Marriage records, which are a much smaller part of the records on each page have been done for twenty-nine of the pages. The number of death records may around 5,000 and the marriage records will be around 1,000.

Excel spreadsheets are used to enter the data and according to the transcribers, they are very easy to use.

So, if there are others on the TIGS list who would like to work on this project, please write me off-list with your name and address.

I will then mail you hard copies of the pages and will email you instructions and the excel spreadsheet. Completed files are then emailed to me.

Regards,

Bill McGrath

Hi Tigs Members< My name is Pat Clark and I have many connections to Troy area. I Live In Watervliet so that is most helpful. The surnames I'm interested in are Mcgrath, Becker, DeFreest, Louks, Daley. My gf Dow Becker b. 1897 m.ca.1917 to Helen Elizabeth McGrath. Dow's parents were Henry B. Becker and Ada M. DeFreest. Helen's parents were Alexander McGrath and Elizabeth Daley. Dow had a sister Emily b. 1885 and m. 1903 to Frank Kennett., also believe he had a brother . 1891 by the name of Everet(not confirmed yet). Dow and Helen are buried in Elmwood Hill Cemetery on Belle Ave. Henry B. and Ada are also buried there. The Beckers lived on Pinewoods Ave. across from Mt. Ida and Ada's father Levi DeFreest was superintendent at Elmwood in early 1900's. Alexander and Elizabeth McGrath are buried in St. Mary's in Troy although they are not in the same plot. Alexander died 4/1942 and Elizabeth d.2/1916. They lived at 517 4th ST. when she died and he lived at 151 Jackson ST. in 1942 whe!

n he died. I have a lot of info but as you know always lookinmg for more. Does anyone know where I can find info on old personnel records from Troy? I have a picture of a Troy policeman that looks like a cousin of mine and can't find any name. Thank you for your time and hope to post more info soon and try to get to a meeting. Sincerely, Pat Clark

Hopefully we can help Pat out. She was in Troy looking for streets near Elmwood when she happened into the Cumberland Farm Store. There she met my sister, Erin Cooney-McEvelly, and started talking genealogy. Of course, Erin told her that she sounded like her sister, me, and then Erin told her about TIGS.

That night Pat called me and I praised TIGS and what we have and hope to accomplish. Told her there has been much research into the McGraths in Troy by Bill.

Welcome Pat and hope to see you at the meeting next week,.

Hello all:

I didn't receive any information from Ed Connally so I went ahead and called the Capital District Celtic Cultural Association, (518) 273-5149, 251 River St, Troy, NY and they have agreed to let us meet there this upcoming Thursday at 6:30. They would be very happy to host us on a regular basis, however they have piping lessons every Thursday (not next week I guess). Kevin Roe, suggested either Wednesday or Friday nights would be free if we could change our meeting night. We can discuss it at the meeting or hash it out on the list, its up to you all.

Anyway, the building is on Monument Square in downtown Troy in the Burdett Building between Troy City Hall and the Arts Center. There should be plenty of parking, so that won't be an issue. He also asked me to send you this announcement. The Capital District Celtic Cultural Association, is sponsoring this speaker next Wednesday and he thought it would be a great interest to us.

"Tracing Your Irish Ancestors"

Wednesday, October 20th 7:00 PM

Arts Center of the Capital Region, 265 River Street, Troy

Free - Open to the Public

How do you go about tracing your Irish ancestors? Where do you begin? Is it even possible? Many people not familiar with Irish research may have heard the myth that Irish genealogy is difficult if not impossible. Nothing could be further from the truth. Ireland has some superb historical records, in some instances, records that are unique in Western Europe. Irish history is a woven fabric made up of historical documentation, oral tradition, sense of place and of identity, of belonging, and of loss. It may not always be straightforward but with a practical approach and a sound foundation, the experience can be a life-enhancing journey of discovery.

This presentation, which will benefit beginners and seasoned genealogists alike, is practical, wide ranging, factual and informative. Using visual aids, the lecture will talk about the basics, about land divisions, the records themselves and how to access them, and how they fit within the periods of Irish history. Of particular interest will be the extensive references to sources and whats new in electronic records, databases and web sites, etc., that are making it easier for family historians to unlock their genealogy.

Fintan Mullan is Executive Director of the Ulster Historical Foundation. He was educated at Queen's University Belfast where he received a bachelors degree in Irish Politics and Philosophy and a Masters Degree in Organization and Management. He is currently a director of Irish Genealogy Limited and the Irish Family History Foundation.

Mike & Rick,

I would like a "standing item" on the agenda each month: Report from List Administrator (so I can let people know the membership activity).

Also, I'm doing a Presentation on Green Island history and research, after the formal business, so that could be the last item.

Thanks!

Hi Mike:

Sorry, no food there, but I'm sure most of us are planning to go directly to Fresno's, the Brew Pub, or maybe Marty Burke's directly afterwards to eat and socialize. The business part of the meeting should be over by 7:30, so it won't be too late if we start the "social" part of the meeting at a restaurant by 7:45.

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

Previously I mentioned that the Troy Library has copies of the microfilm on Troy Deaths and Burials.

These Death and Burial records are an important reference for Troy researchers since many of the entries predate the 1880 law requiring the reporting of deaths.

It was recently pointed out on the TIGS list by Rebecca Rector that some years of these records are now available on line.

Check out the Rensselaer County NY Genweb site: <http://www.rootsweb.com/~nyrensse/>

The following years from this important research document are now available on line:

1833
1835
1839
1881
1882
1883 (partial)

By the way, the three rolls of film in the library are:

1. Burial Records - March 1, 1833 - September 2, 1867 2. Burial Records - August 14, 1867 - June 27, 1882 3. Burial Records - June 8, 1882 - February 27, 1891.

If you are not in the Troy area and want to order the film on Troy Deaths and Burials from Salt Lake City, the numbers required for ordering are:

1. 1434103
2. 1434104
3. 1434105

Individuals who died outside of Troy are listed IF they were buried in Troy.

Even though I replied to Donna separately and said her presentation on Green Island would be that item on Genealogy Table, perhaps we should discuss this briefly as to whether Genealogy Table is Old business or a special item before or after closing comments where it is usually done.

I feel that the Irish Cultural Center is a good place for a meeting. As mentioned previously, it's comfortable, well lit, relatively easy parking etc. We can eat and socialize afterwards, either there (if they allow it) or at a local tavern, or both etc. It's unfortunate that last night's meeting ran so long, but I don't think we should let that influence our decision about a meeting place. A few suggestions:

1. Find out if we can have food there (both munchies and something more substantial).
 2. If we decide to stay there, make signs so everyone knows where to go once inside the building. I wandered all over the building before finding the room.
 3. Perhaps the meeting moderator(s) could try to keep the agenda moving.
- I know this was difficult last night, especially since David was very long-winded yet we were interested in his church record information.

I think this is a great group, and we're doing some wonderful projects, plus sharing genealogy and historical information about the Irish in Troy and the area.

Thank you very much Rebecca for your input. I can certainly ask them about bringing in or having food delivered if that is problem and a simple sign beside the elevator and on the meeting room door could easily be made up to take care of this problem. I can also put more exact directions on the website. I will wait until we hear the other's concerns first though.

Hello from Washington State,

I just became a member and I will be trying to fill in some blanks regarding my Irish roots. My GGgrandmother, Bridget Quinn, nee O'neill, b. ca. 1822 in Ireland, was married to an unknown Quin(n) and they had a son, Peter, born on Feb 27, 1844 at the Nail Factory in Troy, NY. Peter was baptised on Mar. 1, 1844 by Father Havermann. I recieved this information from St. Peter's Church in Troy and though it was in Latin, I was able to be fairly certain that it was my GGgrandmother and GGuncle, Peter. The record also noted the sponsors as James O'Neal and a Maria (last name unreadable). The O'Neal would coincide with my GGgrandmother's maiden name, eventhough the spelling is off.

I am also looking for my GGgrandfather's family. His name was Francis Kane, b. ca. 1828 in Ireland, and at some point, Bridget's husband, unk. Quinn, probably died somewhere between living in Troy and NYC, where Francis married Bridget at Old St. Patrick's Cathedral, in NYC, on July 8, 1847. The marriage certificate that I've got shows the witnesses as Henry Kane and Ellen Wade, not further identified. I don't know if the Kane family was in Troy and that's how Bridget and Francis met or, if Bridget moved to NYC after her husband Quinn died and met Francis there. Those are some of the blanks I'd like to fill in.

Francis and Bridget had three children born in NYC. Michael, Mary and Edward born in 1848, 1850 and 1852, respectively.

Sometime between Edward's birth and my Ggrandfather Patrick's birth, in about 1859, they had moved to Kane County, Illinois. I'm presuming Patrick was born in Kane County, because he lists his birth location as Illinois on census records that I've found. The youngest child of Bridget and Francis was Elizabeth, born in about 1862 in Kaneville, Kane County, Illinois. Considering the gaps in the intervening years between the births of Edward and Patrick leads me to believe there were one or more children born, but who did not survive. Kane County records only go back to about 1877, so the local church records are about the only other source left to me there.

My GGuncle, Peter Quin(n) was listed in the 1860 census with the Kane family in Kaneville, Kane County. Subsequently, in October, 1861, he volunteered and was accepted into the 52nd Illinois Volunteer Infantry. Sometime in October of 1863, he was captured by Confederate forces and imprisoned at Andersonville Prison in Georgia, where he died from scurvey on November 8, 1864. His marker at the Andersonville National Cemetary is 10531.

With any luck, I will be traveling to Clinton, NY in the Spring and I'm planning a trip over to Troy for some on-site research and to attend one or more of the meetings.

Well there are my Troy connections and I am facsinated by the information that I've found so far. The history of the area and the hardships our immigrant ancestors endured is truly amazing. Finding this organization has been great. I've gotten a little more history of the area and I am looking forward to finding out more about the area's and my family's history. I have added several sites from the city and county to my favorites list and regularly check them for any updated information.

Thanks for reading and I hope that I can connect the dots eventually. If there is anything I can research here in Washington State for anyone, I'd be very happy to oblige.

Thanks and Best Regards,

Tom Schenk

Tom,
I also am a newcomer to the list. I'm grateful to the people who started it. My mom who is 87 was an O'Neil and grew up in Troy on 8th Street. I've done a fair amount of research on O'Neils in Troy. My "original O'Neils" were Michael (born in 1834) and Sarah nee Kelly (born in 1840). I think they emigrated from Ireland in the late 1850ies, lived in Boston for awhile, had children there (including Michael, my great grandfather and Peter who died on April 21, 1905 in Cohoes at age 43 and is buried in St. Joseph's), moved to Troy around 1866 and had more children there. Michael's father was James and his mother was Johanna Flynn. Michael died in 1887 and is buried in St. Peter's.
There is also a James O'Neil in the same lot. He is the only other person buried there. I don't know when he died. I have thought that this could be either Michael's father or an infant named after his grandfather. Recently, I learned that Michael probably had an older brother James who also lived in Troy. This James was born around 1833, was married to Margaret nee Cafrey, died in 1898 and is also buried in St. Peter's. His widow Margaret died in Troy in 1912. Because I knew that Michael's father's name was James, I developed a lot of information from the City Directory about James O'Neils in Troy and would be happy to share anything else of interest. Welcome Tom,

It is always good to have someone new on the list. Unfortunately, I do not recognize any of your names, however, let us know when you are coming. Our meetings are the third thursday of the month.

Good Luck,

Lizette

Hello from Washington State,

I just became a member and I will be trying to fill in some blanks regarding my Irish roots. My GGgrandmother, Bridget Quinn, nee O'neill, b. ca. 1822 in Ireland, was married to an unknown Quin(n) and they had a son, Peter, born on Feb 27, 1844 at the Nail Factory in Troy, NY. Peter was baptised on Mar. 1, 1844 by Father Havermann. I recieved this information from St. Peter's Church in Troy and though it was in Latin, I was able to be fairly certain that it was my GGgrandmother and GGuncle, Peter. The record also noted the sponsors as James O'Neal and a Maria (last name unreadable). The O'Neal would coincide with my GGgrandmother's maiden name, eventhough the spelling is off.

I am also looking for my GGgrandfather's family. His name was Francis Kane, b. ca. 1828 in Ireland, and at some point, Bridget's husband, unk. Quinn, probably died somewhere between living in Troy and NYC, where Francis married Bridget at Old St. Patrick's Cathedral, in NYC, on July 8, 1847. The marriage certificate that I've got shows the witnesses as Henry Kane and Ellen Wade, not further identified. I don't know if the Kane family was in Troy and that's how Bridget and Francis met or, if Bridget moved to NYC after her husband Quinn died and met Francis there. Those are some of the blanks I'd like to fill in.

Francis and Bridget had three children born in NYC. Michael, Mary and Edward born in 1848, 1850 and 1852, respectively.

Sometime between Edward's birth and my Ggrandfather Patrick's birth, in about 1859, they had moved to Kane County, Illinois. I'm presuming Patrick was born in Kane County, because he lists his birth location as Illinois on census records that I've found. The youngest child of Bridget and Francis was Elizabeth, born in about 1862 in Kaneville, Kane County, Illinois. Considering the gaps in the intervening years between the births of Edward and Patrick leads me to believe there were one or more children born, but who did not survive. Kane County records only go back to about 1877, so the local church records are about the only other source left to me there.

My GGuncle, Peter Quin(n) was listed in the 1860 census with the Kane family in Kaneville, Kane County. Subsequently, in October, 1861, he volunteered and was accepted into the 52nd Illinois Volunteer Infantry. Sometime in October of 1863, he was captured by Confederate forces and imprisoned at Andersonville Prison in Georgia, where he died from scurvey on November 8, 1864. His marker at the Andersonville National Cemetary is 10531.

With any luck, I will be traveling to Clinton, NY in the Spring and I'm planning a trip over to Troy for some on-site research and to attend one or more of the meetings.

Well there are my Troy connections and I am facsinated by the information that I've found so far. The history of the area and the hardships our immigrant ancestors endured is truly amazing. Finding this organization has been great. I've gotten a little more history of the area and I am looking forward to finding out more about the area's and my family's history. I have added several sites from the city and county to my favorites list and regularly check them for any updated information.

Thanks for reading and I hope that I can connect the dots eventually. If there is anything I can research here in Washington State for anyone, I'd be very happy to oblige.

Thanks and Best Regards,

Tom Schenk

Hello all:

I mentioned yesterday that I would follow up on a few of the questions posed on the list regarding room availability and food at the CDCCA. I checked with them this afternoon and they are planning to give us a key so we can come and go as we please and we can bring in, or have delivered, any sort of food and drink we like, as long as we clean up after ourselves.

They told me that they do not have any vending machines in the building, however, there are two convenient stores within a half a block of the building, one mid-block next to Quayside and one near the corner of Broadway and 2nd Street that are open in the evening.

I don't know if anyone on the TIGS list is subscribed to this list but I know there was a great deal of interest in Emly Ireland early on as many Troy people immigrated from there.

There have been a series of postings the last few days of an index to over 300 graves in Emly.

Kris:

Do you think that this a link that we should have on the TIGS Resources page? I can easily add it.

Jeanne this is not a website it is a mailing list, so I don't think that you can link. I think individuals have to subscribe much as they do to the TIGS list.

Kris:

AH-ha! I was thinking that maybe some of those photos of Emly we saw at one of the earlier meetings (I believe Ed Connolly brought them) might be a nice addition to our website and we could add the link to the listserv?

What do you think, should I ask Ed?

As some may recall, members of the Troy Irish Genealogy Society have been transcribing the payroll records of the Steam Mill of the Burden Iron Company. The second volume of records has been completed and is now online and accessible on the TIGS website.

<http://www.rootsweb.com/~nytigs/>

To view the database, follow the links from the TIGS Projects section of the website. A brief explanation of the database precedes the actual data.

As a point of interest, there were 4914 entries in Volume One and 3322 entries in Volume Two.
