Hi Cindy,

I'm interested in your Kane and Casey families. I'm not sure where my Kane family hails from, but my Casey roots were from Belmullet, County Mayo. If your Caseys are from the same area, then there's a real possibility of a connection. From what I know of the area in County Mayo, there are not too many Casey's there. Do you know if your family hailed from Mayo?

Best Regards,

Tom Schenk

The family names I am researching include Ahern/Ahearn, Banks, Gillen, Kelly, and Warren. All families lived in the Troy area starting in the 1840's. Based on information contained in census records, the one interesting statistic I have gleaned is that both my grandmother and great-grandmother consistently lied about their ages over the years - it's amazing that over a 20 year period someone would only age 13 years!!!

Subject: [TIGS] Roll Call: Manning

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

Hi All,

I have been tied in knots so to speak for over twenty years trying to find data on my great grandfather. And have run into many dead ends. First of all let me give you my problems and what I have run into. The death certificate of my grandfather Thomas Edward Manning, information provided by his son Harry Manning states that his father was James Manning and his mother was Jennie Blanchard and was born on 8 Apr 1863 in Troy, NY. Since about 1900 he called himself Edward Manning. Armed with this I searched the 1870 troy census and came up with only one Thomas or Edward Manning age 7.

This listing said his father was Patrick Manning. After writing for the death record found he was buried in St Mary's Cemetery. With help from a gracious member I learned the other persons of this family buried there.

But to my surprise the Thomas of this family had died in 1908 so a big setback. Figured that my Uncle was wrong on his data for the death certificate.

Looked at the 1870 census again for a Thomas or Edward Manning. Found a James Manning and a Marietta with son Thomas but he was 11 in the 1870 census as the age did not match, if the data from the DC was right, looked in other census years but no listing for a James and Jennie but no luck anywhere.

Then found my grandfather in Saratoga, NY 1900 census listing. This listing, for Edward Manning had his birth listed as April 1870.

Went back to Troy 1880 census and found a Thomas Manning age 1, parents another Patrick and Bridget Manyan. This family was in the 1880 census under Patrick and Bridget Manning with a son Thomas age 10. This Patrick died in 1809 so wrote for his death certificate which said he was buried in St Joseph's Cemetery. There was no Thomas buried in the plot after getting the listing of the persons buried in the plot, lot 22, row 92.

This family was listed with the name Mannin in 1850, Manion in 1860, Maning in 1865, Manyan in 1870, Manning in 1880 and 1900.

This is the same family as all the members names agree through the years of the census'.

Going back to my grandfathers marriage date of 2 8 Sep 1892 in Saratoga, NY. Sent a check and required papers to the NY State Archives in Jun 2004.

The said it would take 6 months to get a reply. In Oct 2004 my check cleared the bank and to this date have not received a word from them. I was hoping it would list his parents name and help me resolve Great grandfathers name. The 1900 census listing for his, Edward Manning, wife and two sons had the correct proven dates. So assumed his was correct also.

The parents name on his death certificate certificate do not check out, neither does his listed birth date. My uncle is not living to question him as are his brothers except one who is now 92 years old and suffering mental problems and not able to communicate.

My only slim thread is that some day I may get the marriage license data for my grandfather.

Any help would be greatly appreciated. Know this rather abbreviated but it has taken me over 20 years to get this far. Not much seems to check out.

If anyone would like the Patrick and Bridgett Manning family census listings from 1850 to 1900 would be glad to send them.

Regards,
Tom Manning

Hi Tom,

You might try checking St Joseph's for his baptismal records if he was baptized there, do you know where they lived in Troy, check city directories, the baptismal records will have his parents name and possible relatives as godparents. Also do you know where in Saratoga they were married, church or city hall right have the record.

Good luck.

I Have a small list of Irish, but a large list of English and Welsh only two of which came to Troy.

I'm Rick Shea currently of Colonie, NY but born (1943) and raised in Troy, NY and attended School #14, St Francis de Sales school, LaSalle Institute, Troy High School, served in the U.S.Navy and sent to HVCC after service.

My parents were John J. and Bertha (Cavanaugh) Shea. Father lived on Pawling Ave and mother Christie St. as did I.

Paternal grandparents John J. and Margaret (Walsh) Shea, they also lived on Pawling Ave.

Maternal grandparents Francis J. and Faye (Manning) Cavanaugh, they also lived next door on Christie St.

Paternal great-grandparents Michael and Bridget (Dunn) Shea from County Kerry and Richard and Mary Bridget (Fitzgerald) Walsh.

The Fitzgeralds were from County Wexford, her parents Patrick and Alice Fitzgerald. Michael Shea's parents were Michael and Bridget (Carey) Shea. Michael and Bridget lived in Norwich, CT before moving to Troy and lived on Railroad St, Jacob St, 7th Ave and eventually Pawling Ave. Michael's mother, Bridget Carey Shea and a sister Mary Shea moved to Troy in the 1870s.

Richard Walsh's parents were John and Mary (Burke) Walsh.

Maternal great-grandparents Frank and Mary Catherine (McNulty) Cavanaugh, Catherine McNulty was born in Ballina, County Mayo. Her parents were Patrick and Sarah Mildred (Gillard) McNulty

According to my parents all the family members were from County Cork, but then so were the Sheas, McNultys and Fitzgeralds.

I am also looking for information on Dr James Boland the Rensselaer County Health Commisiioner during the 40s who married my aunt Kathleen Shea.

The Welsh and English I mentioned at the beginning were Francis E. Manning of English descent whose daughter Faye E. Manning married Frank Cavanaugh and Bertha Ann Leonard who was Faye Manning Cavanaugh's mother and moved to Troy from Plymouth, VT via Rochester, NY with Faye and second husband Taswell Miller in the 1910-20 era.

I am particularly interested in finding and Shea, Walsh and Fitzgerald siblings to my great-grandparents.

Dear Tom, My experience with the State of NY. is that they take an exstreamly long time to get back to you-one time a whole year. They do not like Genealogists and claim they are overburdened with requests and do not have sufficient help. They responded to me there were 'no records' when I had proof of M,B,D. I often wondered if they bothered at all. I have many 'no records' from them. It is much better to go to the towns or cities for info. But the towns didn't always send the records to the state even after it was mandated. Even the city informed me once there were no record, but when I went in person-they found they did have them. To be fair, the dates were a bit off, but they were most helpful. I went first thing on a Monday AM. I wasted a lot of money with the state and no longer go that root-at least in NY. Be patient-they'll get back to you-or you could call them, that might help. Good luck. Rita

If you are researching relatives with a Troy, NY area connection, you will be interested in this new on-line, name searchable, data base of marriages. The data base was formatted by TIGS member, Jeanne M. Keefe.

Members of the Troy Irish Genealogy Society have been working with the Rensselaer County Historical Society, 57 Second Street, Troy, NY 12180, in automating various records from the Burden Iron Co. collection of papers.

The latest project to go on-line is a database of marriages from newspaper clippings from Troy, New York newspapers which were collected by employees of the Burden Iron Company. The 73 pages of records cover the period March 1890 through April 1895 and list over 1,400 surnames. Records cover individuals from Troy and all the surrounding communities as well as a number of entries from other areas of New York State and other states.

You can view these records by going to the Troy Irish Genealogy website located at:

www.rootsweb.com/~nytigs/

and click on TIGS PROJECTS.

I would be interested in hearing from individuals who found the data base useful in locating their relatives. You can write me off list at: seamus@capital.net

Is any TIGS member on the Albany County, Saratoga County or Schenectady County List? I am not on these lists but it would be appropriate to post the notice about the data base on those lists. If anyone does post it, please let the TIGS list know.

Hi Kevin:

The death records are still being worked on by a few transcribers. Most of the pages have been done and are now being proof read.

This data base, which may approach 6,000 records, will also be posted to the TIGS web site when it is finished.

Regards,

Bill McGrath

We have had several new subscribers recently, and I'd like to encourage those new subscribers to post a message to the list with the surnames, etc., you are researching (if you have not already done so). Put surnames in the subject line, as well, please.

Our list members are eager and willing to help!

Hello all:

I have only heard from one person interested in coming to the Christmas potluck next Wednesday evening. Was there anyone else interested?

As a few of you already know, I have sprained my ankle and broken a few bones in my foot, so I will be in an air cast for the next 5 weeks. So if only two of us are interested, I may cancel the pot luck at my house and see if maybe anyone wants to go to a regular meeting instead. Maybe Mahr's is free again?

Pleas let me know.

Jeanne Keefe has posted a Charter that was approved by members at the November meeting. We are asking that all members of the list please go to the site, review and comment before it is officially adopted. This Charter has been along time in the works, it is a combination of the previously suggested versions.

We hope we have taken the best of the others and combined them to everyones satisfaction. Thanks to the members who worked on it, to Kay Brearton for typing up this version and to Jeanne for getting it up for our review.

PLEASE review and give us ALL comments and feedback.

My comment is that it looks great with one exception. We had in the past in many emails spoken of TIGS being a tri-county thing to include Albany and Schenectady. Is this not to be now? In my data base, I had folks in Troy who went to Albany and then some drifted back to Troy or Schenectady. Most, however, stayed in Albany.

Two things: The surrounding areas should be included and two-thirds of the dues paying membership to change the charter may be hard to get. Two-third of the votes cast would be a more attainable number.

If it was the era of Victoria, it might have meant allegiance to her, or it might have been an area of Ireland named, by the British, Queenstown or Queens. I think there were such, but can't identify them offhand.

Sounds like you are related to Queen Victoria of England. Ireland was not absorbed until Cromwell took over so it can't be Queen Elizabeth I. QE II is only Queen of Northern Ireland and the UK. (TIC)

Could this be from a naturalization? If so, the person was relinquishing allegiance to the Queen of the United Kingdom, Great Britain & Ireland. Most of the naturalizations have this.

Pam:

County Laois in Ireland was formerly called Queens County.

The death certificate for one of my Dunn relatives from Norwich, NY showed "Queens County" which was the first clue I had that my Dunn's came from County Laois.

Hello all:

I hate to change everyone's plans at the last minute, but due to my injury I just can't foresee me getting my act together in time for dinner at my house this Wednesday (or any time soon for that matter!). So I checked with Mahr's and we can have the back room this Thursday December 16th for a meeting/Christmas Dinner if people still want to get together this month.

I know that Bill McGrath and Donna Vaughn couldn't make it on Wednesday, but maybe they can come on Thursday and a few people replied that they would be interested in going to Mahrs this month. So, I will be there and I will post the change on the website, so if you can come please let me know via the list.

Thanks and sorry for the last minute change of plans!

Hi Brian,

Check out St Brigid's Church in Watervliet(West Troy), would have been closer to the address and was mainly an Irish Church. The rectory is at 695 5th Avenue and phone # is (518)273-2913. My mother's maiden name was also Martin and grew up in Port Schuyler which is what this part of Watervliet(West Troy) is called. St Brigid's was the Irish Catholic church in the southern part of Watervliet, whereas St Patrick's was the Irish church in the northern part of Watervliet. My Martin's immigrated to Troy in 1881 from County Galway,Ireland. Also you might want to check out the Albany County NY Hall Of Records which is on line and searchable for naturalizations that occurred in Albany County...Good luck in your research.

Happy Holidays.

Donna

New Bill Will Close Records to Genealogists HR10, which was mentioned in the 13 October issue of RootsWeb Review, has passed out of the U.S. House of Representatives and is now part of S.2845. The amendments suggested by David Rencher in his letter to the bill's sponsor, Congressman J. Dennis Hastert, were NOT incorporated into this legislation. Thus, the terms of HR10 will now be considered by the Senate, as part of S.2845.

If S.2845 becomes law, as now written, family historians will face some real challenges in attempts to obtain birth records, even on long-deceased individuals. Specifically, what genealogists need to do is suggest to their lawmakers the addition of Sec. 3061(b)(1)(A)(iii) that would read: "who is alive on the date that access to their birth certificate is requested."

This addition would clarify that the legislation (soon to be law) applies ONLY to birth certificates of CURRENTLY LIVING PERSONS.

If you do not know your U.S. Senator's e-mail address, you can find it at

<http://www.senate.gov/>

This bill can be found online at <http://thomas.loc.gov/> Put in S.2845 (in the bill number window) and then select item No. 3; and go to Subtitle B--Identity Management Security; Chapter 2--Improved Security for Birth Certificates.

Hi Listers,

I ran across something very interesting in my house that I would like to share with everyone. Just to give some background first, I live in Poestenkill, NY in a big old farm house. The property was deeded in 1803 to Cooper from Stephen Van Rensselaer, the house followed soon after. My husband and I are putting a new kitchen addition on the back end of the house so we needed to demolish the old "Summer Kitchen" to put the new kitchen in the same footprint. Just before we started demolition, we had to clean out the attic above the existing kitchen. In the process I found this notebook that belong to the previous owner. Her name was Gladys Davenport Smith and she was grew up in Cohoes and graduated in 1921 from Cohoes High. She moved out to Poestenkill in 1927.

Reading through the notebook I thought that someone on the TIGS list might be related to the people in it. The notebook is kind of a memory book with all the names of the graduating class of 1921. Each page is dedicated to a classmate and most of the classmates wrote in various things.

For an example:

Name "John Donald MacNeill"
Residence "14 Younglove Ave."
Birthday "January 28"
Favorite Flower "Tailing Arbutus of the Adirondacks"
Walk "To Chestertown"
Play "The Auctioneer"
Book "?olf in the Woods"
Song "Poet & Peasant Overture"
Game "Tennis"
Boys "All Except Bill"
Girls "All that Love Me"
Haunt "Hunters Garage"
Subject "Fordology"
Expression "Do you love me"
Proverb "Enjoy yourself while you're young Plus Much Much More....."

Some of the writings are quite funny. I also have the Commencement Program dated Wednesday June 22, 1921 @ 8PM. There were 19 in the graduating class. Listed below you find the list of graduates.

Grace Agnes Adey, Salutatorian
Kenneth MacLean Archibold
Harold Kilmer Barnum, Valedictorian
Ethel May Becker
Gladys Elvira Davenport
Besse Jane Fonda
Walter Merritt Goddard
Mildred Gladys Hillman

Anna Kathryn Holleran
Jessie Mary Lavigne
John Donald MacNeill
Eleanor Mary Reed
Maria Elizabeth Salisbury
Mildred Edith Stiles
Margaret Aitken Thompson
George Edward Thompson
Mildred Bertha Tofte
Roy Clark Travis
Edith Abbie Zink

What beautiful names. Most of the classmates wrote in this book. If you are related to any of these people, I would be happy to take a picture of the appropriate page and email it to you. I am also bringing this to the meeting tonight.

HO-HO-HO Merry Christmas
Lizette

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

I found this among a bunch of material that I have accumulated over the years. Don't have any idea what the source was, but thought it might be of interest especially to people new to the attempt to find out who they are, and who their relatives are.

Western kinship terminology

Most Western societies employ Eskimo Kinship terminology. This kinship terminology is common in societies based on conjugal (or nuclear) families, where nuclear families must be relatively mobile.

Members of the nuclear family use descriptive kinship terms:

- * Mother: the female parent
- * Father: the male parent
- * Son: the males born of the mother
- * Daughter: the females born of the mother
- * Brother: a male born of the same mother
- * Sister: a female born of the same mother

It is generally assumed that the mother's husband is also the genitor. In some families, a woman may have children with more than one man or a man may have children with more than one woman. Children who share one parent but not another are called "half-brothers" or "half-sisters." Children who do not share parents, but whose parents are married, are called "step-brothers" or "step-sisters." If a person is married to the parent of a child, but is not the parent of the child themselves, then they are the "step-parent" of the child, either the "stepmother" or "stepfather". Children who are adopted into a family are generally called by the same terms as children born into the family.

Typically, societies with conjugal families also favor neolocal residence; thus upon marriage a person separates from the nuclear family of their childhood (family of orientation) and forms a new nuclear family (family of procreation). This practice means that members of one's own nuclear family were once members of another nuclear family, or may one day become members of another nuclear family.

Members of the nuclear families of members of one's own nuclear family may be lineal or collateral. When they are lineal, they are referred to in terms that build on the terms used within the nuclear family:

- * Grandfather: a parent's father
- * Grandmother: a parent's mother
- * Grandson: a child's son
- * Granddaughter: a child's daughter

When they are collateral, they are referred to in more classificatory terms that do not build on the terms used within the nuclear family:

- * Uncle: father's brother, father's sister's husband, mother's brother, mother's sister's husband
- * Aunt: father's sister, father's brother's wife, mother's sister, mother's brother's wife
- * Nephew: sister's sons, brother's sons
- * Niece: sister's daughters, brother's daughters

When separated by additional generations (in other words, when one's collateral relatives belong to the same generation as one's grandparents or grandchildren), these terms are modified by the prefix "great".

Most collateral relatives were never members of the nuclear family of the members of one's own nuclear family.

* Cousin: the most classificatory term; the children of aunts or uncles. Cousins may be further distinguished by degree of collaterality and generation. Two persons of the same generation who share a grandparent are "first cousins" (one degree of collaterality); if they share a great-grandparent they are "second cousins" (two degrees of collaterality) and so on. If the shared ancestor is the grandparent of one individual and the great-grandparent of the other, the individuals are said to be "first cousins once removed" (removed by one generation); if the shared ancestor is the grandparent of one individual and the great-great-grandparent of the other, the individuals are said to be "first cousins twice removed" (removed by two generation), and so on.

Distant cousins of an older generation (in other words, one's parents' first cousins) are technically first cousins once removed, but are often classified with "aunts" and "uncles".

Similarly, a person may refer to close friends of one's parents as "aunt" or "uncle," or may refer to close friends as "brother" or "sister". This practice is called fictive kinship.

Relationships by marriage, except for wife/husband, are qualified by the term "-in-law". The mother and father of one's spouse are one's mother-in-law and father-in-law; the spouse of one's son or daughter is one's son-in-law or daughter-in-law.

The term "sister-in-law" refers to three essentially different relationships, either the wife of one's brother, of the sister of one's spouse, or the wife of one's spouse's sibling. "Brother-in-law" is similarly ambiguous. There are no special terms for the rest of one's spouse's family.

Specific distinctions vary among Western societies. For instance, in French, the prefix beau- or belle- is used for both "-in-law" and "step-"; in other words, one's belle-soeur could be the sister of one's spouse, the wife of one's sibling, the wife of one's spouse's sibling, or the daughter of one's parent's spouse. In Spanish, each of the roles that English creates with the suffix "-in-law" has a different word (suegros- parents-in-law, yerno-son-in-law, nuera-daughter-in-law, cuñados-siblings-in-law), but there is a suffix -astro or -astra that is equivalent to "step-".

Another bit of info that may prove useful. As I find these and get around to putting them into the computer I will share them, in the hope that they might help someone get a little further into this fascination study of who we are.

An Ahnentafel (or Ahnenreihe) is a list of a person's ancestors in a particular order. It is a construct used in genealogy to display a person's ancestry compactly, without the need for a diagram such as a family tree, which is particularly useful in situations where one may be restricted to using plain text, for example in e-mails or newsgroup articles.

It is effectively a traversal of the family tree.

After listing the person as #1, you list their father as #2 and their mother as #3, then their grandparents as #4 to #7, and so on back through the generations. In this scheme, any person's father has double that person's number, and a person's mother has double the person's number plus one. Apart from #1, who can be male or female, all even-numbered persons are male, and all odd-numbered persons are female.

Demonstration

1. self
2. father
3. mother
4. father's father (grandfather) (paternal grandfather)
5. father's mother (grandmother) (paternal grandmother)
6. mother's father (grandfather) (maternal grandfather)
7. mother's mother (grandmother) (maternal grandmother)
8. father's father's father (great grandfather)
9. father's father's mother (great grandmother)
10. father's mother's father (great grandfather)
11. father's mother's mother (great grandmother)
12. mother's father's father (great great grandfather)
13. mother's father's mother (great great grandmother)
14. mother's mother's father (great great grandfather)
15. mother's mother's mother (great great grandmother)

I have deeds from 1863, 1905, and 1914 for property described as "Lot 263 on the west side of Greenbush Road". Since my family only lived at one address in Troy, I have always assumed that this was describing the property at 507 4th Street. Just wondering, are these roads the same?

Subject: [TIGS] Update/TIGS Death Records Project

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

As many members of the list know, 29 volunteers from the Troy Irish Genealogy List and the Rensselaer County list have been data entering death records clipped from Troy, NY newspapers that were found in a folder with the Burden Iron Company records collection housed in the Rensselaer County Historical Society.

These records cover the period March 1890 through April 1895.

An update on the project, as of today is as follows:

Out of the 73 pages of records:

1. 31 pages, with 2,719 names, have been data entered, proofread and compiled into a data base.
2. 6 pages have been data entered and are now being proofread by 3 volunteers.
3. 20 pages have been data entered and are now ready for proof reading.
4. 16 pages of data are currently being data entered by 10 different volunteers.

The death records contain a wealth of information and should be of great value to researchers. A few random examples are copied below to show you the kinds of information in the death notices and the various locations covered. When this project is done, we may have 5,000 plus records in the data base.

Bill McGrath
Clifton Park, NY

ROWLEY- In this city, August 9, 1892, Mrs. SARAH N., wife of the late Samuel Rowley and sister of Edward and the late William Jones, aged 43 years. Funeral Wednesday at 3 o'clock P.M. from her late residence on Burgess lane, near Willow street. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend. Fitchburg and Youngstown, Ohio papers please copy.

CONWAY-At Batavia, N.Y., July 24, 1892, JOSEPH H. CONWAY, aged 46 years and 13 days. Funeral from the house, 201 Hudson avenue, Green Island, Wednesday at 2 o'clock, and from St. Mark's church at 2:30 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances and members of Post McConihe, G.A.R. are invited to attend.

McLOUD-OBITUARY- ANNA E. MCLLOUD entered into her last sleep at Troy, N.Y., March 8, 1893. Her kindly ministrations and her goodness of heart, together with a genial temperament, won for her a large circle of friends, who deeply regret the close of her useful life and mourn the loss of a true Christian soul. She had everything to live for, but in the midst of a happy life she was called by Him who gives and takes all souls. With a patient yet pathetic heroism she bravely faced the inevitable death which bore her spirit up to God. At last, as peacefully and hopefully as a little child, she sank into the rest which wakens not on earthly shores. In her long and weary sickness tender hearts and loving hands gladly ministered to every want. Beyond the shadow of so great a sorrow we behold the breaking of a great light, the light of immortality.

WINSLOW-At Woodcliff, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Thursday, March 10, 1892, Hon. JOHN F. WINSLOW, in the 82nd year of his age. Funeral services at the Presbyterian church at Poughkeepsie, on Monday, 14th inst., at 11 o'clock A.M. Relatives and friends are invited. Carriages awaiting at Poughkeepsie depot on arrival of train leaving New York at 9:10 o'clock. Internment in family vault in Albany Rural cemetery.

WILLIS-Obituary-Mrs. George Willis died at Utica June 12. The husband of the deceased, George Willis, who survives, was at one time associated with Henry Snyder in the Rensselaer iron works company's store in South Troy. He was born at the Iron Works and was for many years a resident of Troy.

PERKINS-OBITUARY-The death of Mrs. Emeline Frear Perkins, for many years a respected resident of this city, occurred at her home on Fifth avenue yesterday afternoon. The deceased was in her eighty-sixth year and was of unusually winning character. She had been for many years a member of the Second Presbyterian church. For a time she resided with her son, the late Henry Perkins of Lansingburgh, and she had many friends in the village. The funeral will occur from the residence of her son, William E. Perkins, 2,433 Fifth avenue, Troy.

MATHEWS-In Brooklyn, Feb. 9, 1892, ALICE MARGARET MATHEWS, only child of Robert D. and Nellie Mathews, aged 3 years and 10 months. "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven"

MATTHEWS-Passed away in Brooklyn, Feb. 9, 1892, of scarlet fever and diphtheria, Alice Margaret, daughter of Robert D. and Nellie A. Matthews, aged 3 years and 10 months. Interment in the Evergreen cemetery, Wednesday, February 10.

RATHBORNE - In the city of New York, at her late residence, No. 17 East Sixty-fourth street, on Dec 31, 1890, ELIZABETH LEEDAM, wife of Charles L. Rathborne and sister of William E. Hagan of this city. Funeral services at St. Thomas's church, Fifth avenue and Fifty-third street, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Chappequa, N.Y.

BENNETT-In this city, Feb. 23, 1892, EDGAR L., only son of Julia A. And Joseph F. Bennett, and grandson of Mrs. Loren Smalley, aged 11 years, 4 months and 13 days. Funeral from the residence, 2,182 Sixth avenue, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend. Interment private. New York papers please copy. We saw not the angels who met him there; The gates of the city we could not see. Over the river, with the angels fair, My darling stands waiting for me.
