Mimi, my father and two of his brothers were residents of Hillside for a few years due to the death of their father and their mother was not able to care for them. I discovered this when I saw their names in the US Census. There is a sheet of people's names just for Hillside. I don't remember the date of that census but it is reasonable to presume that this is done for each census. I don't know if Hillside Orphanage and Hillside School were the same institution.

I believe the school was run by the Christian Brothers de LaSalle. AL Cuerdon

Hi TIGS Listers,

For those who may need the facts on dues for the Society:

Amount $5.00
Address Troy Irish Genealogical Society
10 Jones Drive
Schenectady, New York 12309

The three main reasons for becoming a paying member is:

1. Voting rights on the workings of the Society 2. A sense of community and membership 3. Helping pay for any expenses incurred with the many helpful projects the Society undertakes including the transcription projects and future publications the Society is looking into, if we can afford it. Which is probably an extension of # 2.

Hi Everyone,

Below you will find an email I received from Jim Owens. For some reason it was not posted to the list, so I am posting it.

Lizette
List Administrator

I read Joan Howes article on collar workers with interest.

Until at least the middle 1950's Midshipmen at the US Naval Academy still were wearing detachable collars held on the shirt with a gold colored stud. Our ironed shirts came back from the laundry with a wooden or white metal stud to hold them in place. Plebes, as a form of punishment for misbehavior, would be fined in "rasputniks", as the studs were called. One metal one, being rarer, was worth five or ten wooden ones. Since plebes tended to hoard them against future troubles, this required one to beg them from upper classmen. That resulted in further humiliation in the form of push-ups or squats, or similar, since the upper class knew one was collecting them for a "fine." A fine in rasputniuks was considered light compared to some other alternatives.

I don't know when they stopped wearing separate collars.

My great-grandmother's sister Hannah Ryan married ?
Kinney. We don't know the first name of her husband.
They had at least one child; I know of the one (nick)named Zuzzy.

Hannah was born ca 1861 in Troy.

Hannah & family
eventually moved to Pennsylvania, and was still alive in 1930.

Any
connections out there?

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

Hi everyone,

Please go to our website (see end of this E-mail) and take a look at the first photo in our "Can you identify" series. It's one that I submitted, which pictures a group of school children from Green Island in the late 1800's.

Some of the children are identified (one is my grandmother, Anna Driscoll). Notice the brick building in the background. Based on the brick and the curved shape of the window in the background, plus the timeframe, I believe this to be the Green Island Union Free School No. 1, which was brick and built in 1865, on Hudson Ave. (I have a separate picture of this school, which appears very similar to the one in the background of the picture of the children). This school would be close to where my grandmother lived. This building, by the way, later became the famous Prediger's Bakery.

Any additional help or comments are welcome.

Thanks,
Donna Vaughn

Possibly. So far I have discovered....my John =gr gr GF seems to have spent his years in the US in Troy. I don't have his death information but do know that his wife Sabina and a daughter Alice were in the 1910 directory Looks like a son might have lived next door. Maybe your gr gr aunt married a brother to my gr gr GF. If you could obtain her death record the informant may be her daughter or husband. A wonderful lady from Canada emailed me about church records of Kinney's .

I will cc this to her and perhaps she has some information for you as well.

A John and I believe Peter moved to Yonkers about 1859. Not sure of kinship but I bet there was some. I'll keep digging and let you know what I find out.

This stuff is absolutely addictive isn't it? The more I find out the more I want to know.

My Daddy (that's right I said DADDY I am possibly your hillbilly Kinney connection) always told us to keep in mind that whatever we have in life was gained on the backs of our ancestors by their sweat and sacrifices. We must keep that in mind when we make decisions about our lives. How true that is and how incredible to learn what those sacrifices and toils are!

I am pretty new at my research and have learned sooooo much. I have a long way to go.

Keep in touch.

Good Luck

Stephanie

If you are researching relatives with a TROY, NY area connection, you will be interested in this new on-line, name searchable, data base of almost 1,800 records of prominent Troy and Rensselaer County, New York residents. This data base was extracted from Volume III of the three volume set, Troy and Rensselaer County, New York: A History by Rutherford Hayner printed in 1925. I would be interested in hearing from individuals who found this new data base on prominent citizens useful in locating their relatives. You can write me off list at: seamus@nycap.rr.com

Thanks to Joan Howe, a Troy Irish Genealogy member from Iowa, for transcribing this data. This volume also contains biographies, family histories and photographs. Joan has volunteered to do lookups. If your relative's name is listed in the volume, contact joanhowe@earthlink.net and she will email you a jpg file of the information.

These records cover the general population in the area and are NOT restricted to Irish surnames. The information in this data base may include:

- Date of birth.
- Place of birth.
- Date of marriage.
- Place of marriage.
- Names of parent's.
- Name of spouse
- Names of spouses parent's.

Names of businesses connected to the individual.
Indication if photograph is in book.
Indication if family history is in book.
Notes like Civil War service, Mexican War service, etc.

Many of the birth and marriage dates listed predate the 1880 law requiring reporting of such information. A quick scan of the data shows births and marriages from cities, towns, villages, etc., throughout the entire area of New York State. In addition, a large number of entries also cover births and marriages occurring in the following countries or states:

Canada
England
Germany
Holland
Italy
Ireland
Scotland

Alabama
Connecticut
Kentucky
Illinois
Iowa
Massachusetts
Minnesota
New Jersey
New Hampshire
Ohio
Pennsylvania
Vermont
Virginia

You can view these records by going to the TIGS website located at:

Troy Irish Genealogy Society website
<http://www.rootsweb.com/~nytigs/>

and click on TIGS PROJECTS.

We invite you to explore the TIGS website which has been newly redesigned by Jeanne Keefe, the TIGS Web Master. Here you will find local history articles, resources and genealogy research tips as well as several data bases and a number of interesting Troy Area photographs. Also, you can search your surnames in the following additional records automated by TIGS members and other volunteers:

Burden Iron Company Steam Mill Payroll Records. (8,236 names) Troy Area Marriage Records. (1,448 names) Troy Area Death Records. (6,031 names) Index-History of the Troy Police Department. (668 names) Bank Officers in Troy Banks From 1801-1891. (299 names)

These data bases are part of a continuing effort by the Troy Irish Genealogy Group to make available on line, Troy area records, that may be of interest to genealogy researchers, especially those outside the Troy area. As previously mentioned, these records are NOT limited to Irish surnames. The above series of records were transcribed by 28 TIGS members and other volunteers. Eighteen of the volunteers were from the Troy area while the other volunteers lived in Massachusetts, Iowa, Utah, North Carolina, Michigan, Maryland and California.

We are now in the development stages of a major new project of automating the Rensselaer County marriage index. Our plans are to scan the source documents and send a pdf file as an email attachment to the volunteer workers. Data would then be entered into an excel spread sheet and returned. This index may exceed 30,000 names and we can use a lot more volunteers than the 28 used on the previous projects.

If interested in working on this project, please write me off list at: seamus@nycap.rr.com and send me your name, address and telephone number. The number of items to be data entered are minimal as shown by the following examples taken from the index:

Surname		ABEL
Given Name		JOHN C.
Volume Number	3
Page Number		125
Marriage Record Number	10249
Marriage Date		Oct. 8, 1918

Surname		HART
Given Name		MARGARET.
Volume Number	3
Page Number		125
Marriage Record Number	10249
Marriage Date		Oct. 8, 1918

(NOTE: There are separate index pages for names of grooms and for names of brides. The ABEL record above was taken from the "A" index page for grooms and the HART record above was taken from the "H" index page for brides. The marriage record number, 10249, is what links these two records together.)

Hope you enjoy visiting the Troy Irish Genealogy Website and that you find a relative's name there.

Regards,

Bill McGrath

William Butler is described in the 1860 census for Lansingburgh as a journeyman brush maker, born in Ireland. He is 30 years old. married to Catherine, also born in Ireland. There are children, Richard, James and William all born in New York.

He corresponded with my ggrandfather, John Morrison, during the Civil War who reported "received a letter from my old friend William Butler". Butler lived next door to John, who was also a journeyman brush maker, in Lansingburgh in 1860.

Is anyone researching this Butler family who might know where they came from in Ireland?

I am also looking for a Richard Butler (was member of firm of Butler and Schnaible that was a carriage shop in Schdy. His home on the corner of Clinton and State. the town pump was directly in front of his house.. ...He has family buried in Vale Cemetary in Schenectady and is the owner of the plots where some of the Stevens Family are laid to rest....Richard...b. 1852 ...I think .....was married to Maria Mathilda Van Antwerp

Do you have childrens names?? Cornelia Butler mar George Stevens and Charles E. Butler mar. Elsie Marie Stevens... I have desc. of these families and are in contact with some.

Also connected to this family is Thomas Smith and Mary Leonard Smith both b. Ireland. dates unknown.. they had at least one daughter b. 1885 in Troy at 210 Congress St,,,,,Elizabeth Genevive Smith who was my grandmother. Also have a Joseph Leonard who was godfather to my father in 1920.

have been stuck here with no place to go for over 10 years...Smith is a hard name to research. Any push in any direction would be appreciated.

thanks in advance

My GF, George Calvert was born in Troy in May 1858. His mother was Maggie Calvert. Father George Gourley. May have been an illegitimate child.

The children in the photo do not look happy to have their photo taken.

George A. Calvert, b. May 1858, Troy, New York. Mother: Maggie Calvert, Father: George Gourley. George Calvert was thought to be illegitimate child. Somehow wound up in Cincinnati, Ohio 1890. Married Margaret O Connor, b. Cincinnati. Have been unable to locate birth certificate for George. Was possibly in orphanage in Troy. Any info appreciated and can contact me off list lubu@dependanet.com Thanks for this opportunity to post.

Lissa,

William's son Richard was born in 1855, if the 1860 census can be trusted. Other children, in 1860, were James, b. 1856, and William, b1859. I just recently searched for him in connection with a letter John Morrison reported receiving from him on 1 November 1862. He was, as was John, a journeyman brushmaker. I was interested in his origin in Ireland to see if they knew each other before emigrating. John arrived in New York in October 1855 but I can't find out where he came from in Ireland.

I have yet to do any more research on the Butlers.

As an interesting aside, both John's brother-in-law, Frank McCabe, and his sister-in-law's husband, Robert Truland, were carriage makers in Troy. Trulan was a first generation Irish-American and I am sure all these people knew each other. God help you with "Smith"; I have plenty of problems with "Reilly."

All the Best,

Jim Owens

Hi there TIGS land-

If anyone is interested I have quite a few pictures from my recent trip of several Irish cottage/ ruins, 50 or so pics of sectarian murals in Belfast and the "peace" wall between the 2 communities there near Shankhill Rd., the small sectarian parks and gardens in honor of each's dead, and also of the Catholic churches in Ballymore Westmeath and Carrigtwohill Cork.

The Belfast pictures are quite interesting. I also have a few shots of an intimidating looking border security station which I thought was abandoned but the British army quickly let me know it was not.

Thanks,

Hello,

My GGGrandfather Hugh Norton married Bridget Dunn at Saint Peter's in Troy in 1840. They were both born in Ireland. Their son William (my ggrandfather) was Baptized at St. Peter's in 1841. Another child Mary was Baptized at St. Peter's in 1847. William moved to Boston area~ 1855 and eventually established our family in and around Boston. Hugh and Bridget seem to have disappeared.

Please add me to your list. Thanks!

My name is Bill Bronk...and I'm researching the name Catherine Callanan, my great, great grandmother. She was born in 1836...and came to this country in 1847...during the Potato Famine. She married my great, great grandfather, Philip J. Bronk. According to the 1920 U.S. Census, she was naturalized in 1869. That's about all I know of her. I would love to know where she came from in Ireland...but I keep running into brick walls

Donna,

I just had a chance to look at the photo of the Green Island school children. Could you be a bit more specific with regard to a time frame? It's possible that my grandfather and/or his brother(s) are in this picture. Although I have never seen a picture of any of his family, and none of him as a child, I do see a face in the picture that might bear a resemblance to my family members. Will have to "blow it up" and have a closer look. If you could possibly narrow the time down a bit, it could be a big help. Do you think it's the 1890's ??

Does anyone know whether there records for the school that we could search, and where they might be ?

Thank you.
Sheila

Hi Sheila,

Take a look at my grandmother, Anna Driscoll, who is at the end of the second row from the bottom (the very last girl on the right). She was born around 1883-1884. Guess her age from the picture. I'm guessing around 11 or 12, so this brings us into the mid to late 1890's.

Any school records would be with the current Heatly School, Hudson Ave., Green Island. Librarian/historian is Ginger Hewitt.

When TIGS first started I had submitted Caulfield and Coyle as my two surnames. They had roots in Troy but then moved to Albany and some went back to Troy. Somewhere along the line the L in Caulfield got dropped on the website and my email address got lost/eliminated. I am sorry but I do not have a web site to link to. I do still connect to those two surnames.

I would like to keep the names of some of my ancestors on the TIGS list - Ahearn, (Ahern), Banks, Gillen, Kelly and Warren. I have been able to ascertain that my Warren ancestors arrived in this country in 1842 and settled in Troy. The Banks family, as far as I can deduce arrived around 1852 and bought property and built a home on what is now 15th Street in Troy this piece of land remained in our family for more than 100 years.. I have not been able to determine the arrival of the Ahearn (Ahern) family but the family was politically active; my great grand uncle was a member of the New York Legislature and my cousin, Jack, was Mayor of Troy. I have not been able to establish when my great-grandmother, Elizabeth Gillen, arrived in this country but I'm still working on that.

I can be reached off-line at tlewandu@nycap.rr.com.

Hello Jeanne,

Please link my email address to the surname MOONEY.

From the 1880 Troy census Edward Mooney (43) was a policeman. He and his wife Jane (28) resided at 85 Federal St.,4th Ward, with their children Catherine (6), Mary (5), Edward Jr. (3) and Jane (1).

Also, please add and link my email address to the surname NELLIGAN.

From the 1870 Cohoes census,4thWard, William Nelligan (27) owned a grocery store. He and his wife Ann (27) had 3 children, Thomas(4), John (2) and Charles (5months). I Don't yet know if there is a connection to Troy.

I'm looking for any information on either surname.

Thank you.

Remember that if your mailbox is full and postings bounce back to Rootsweb x 3, you are automatically removed from the list & the list administrator is not made aware of this. Always contact the list administrator if you haven't seen any postings in awhile, to confirm that you are still "with us."

Hi Jeanne:

Please add my "Troy" names to your list along with my email address.

Thanks!

Langton
Keefe and O'Keefe
Clark
Borden

My G-G Grandparents ---- Langton - Mary Keefe Langton (died 1907) and James Langton (born approx 1822 -- died in Troy Nov. 4, 1890, JAMES LANGTON, SR., at his residence, 83 Tenth street. James Langton was the son of Elizabeth Borden and Patrick Langton and I believe was from Dublin.

Mary is the daughter of Richard Keefe and Annie Clark Mary and James lived on 83 10th Street.....The Langton family lived there for about 100 years. There are still Langtons in the area that I have contacted.

The house may not exist because on MapQuest it looks as if it's on the campus of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. In 1880 three of Mary Keefe's daughters worked as collar makers.

James Langton was the son of Elizabeth Borden and Patrick Langton and I believe was from Dublin.

Their children were:

-- Mary Langton (my great-grandmother) who married 'Dr. James O'Donohoe ---- DONOHOE-LANGTON- At the Church of St. Paul the Apostle, March 25, 1894, by the Rev. William O'Mahoney, Dr. James T. C. O'Donohoe of New York and Miss Mary F. Langton of this city

<http://www.rootsweb.com/~nytigs/BurdenMarriages-L M.htm>

Their daughter, Ethel O'Donohoe married Francis Patrick Callahan, Sr. and their son was Francis Patrick Callahan, Jr. -- my father. Ethel grew up in Manhattan. The Callahans were from Brooklyn.

-- William Langton James Langton
-- Catherine Langton
-- Julia Langton

Hello Everyone:

Next week I am planning to remove all the surnames without links to specific information or email addresses from the TIGS website surnames list. Thanks to everyone that sent me their family histories to post and permission to link to their email addresses. I have added quite a few in the past few weeks.

However: here is a list of names that do not have anyone or anything to link to and are scheduled to be removed. Please take a few minutes to review those lists:

http://www.rootsweb.com/~nytigs/SurnamesPage2\_A-L.htm

http://www.rootsweb.com/~nytigs/SurnamesPage3\_M-Z.htm

If any of these are your family surnames and you wish them to remain on the site, please send me your email address or a brief family history and the names you wish to link from ASAP. Thanks for your cooperation. Jeanne

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

Hello All,

I have been stuck with my Surnam / Great Grandfather in Troy (John Quigley). One thought I did have was seeing if St. Joseph's Church kept any records - on marriage or baptisms. He would have been married their - John Quigley married Catherine Powers in approximately 1892 and their kids were probably baptized there.

Anybody had any luck on researching St. Joseph's records and if so how I can start the process?

Thanks Everyone!

Hi James, Just one thought, my Russell family attended St. Joseph's Church in South Troy, baptism, etc., but when Catherine married Patrick Fitzpatrick in 1860, they were married at St. Mary's in Troy. I had looked for years for this marriage and the way I found the location was thru Patrick's Civil War records when Catherine applied for his benefits. St. Mary's sent me the certificate.

James,

Have you written to the Church Secretary? Many are helpful. I usually include a check for the parish.

The Troy Times also lists marriages but I have not looked as late as 1892.

You might be lucky if you visit the Troy Public Library. They have unique notebooks of vital records-type information published in local newspapers over the years. I'm not sure of the time frames, but the library reference desk certainly could tell you.

To James Quigley:

The NYS Dept of Health began its collection of vital records -- births, marriages and deaths -- in 1880. The City of Albany was one of four cities that did not comply until 1914, but a marriage or birth in Troy should be in the indexes.

The cost of a vital records copy is $22, but I consider it well worth the fee, because it is a photocopy of the original instead of a modern typed form, as often dispensed by local clerks.

Marriage certificates, for example, typically include the names of all parents, as well as the ages, occupations and birthplaces of the marrying couple.

Birth records typically give the names of parents, including the mother's maiden name, as well as the child's full legal name and the number of children the mother has already had. John Quigley's marriage in 1892 or so and the births of their children ought to be in the state's files.

I'm sorry it has taken me this long to gather the names. Also my e-mail address can be posted with the names. Thank you for your help.

Donna,

Thank you for the nice compliment! The pleasure of meeting was certainly ours and we appreciated the time and information that you so kindly shared with us.

And thank you, thank you for narrowing down the time frame (to the mid to late 1890's) regarding the picture of the Green Island school kids!! My grandfather, JAMES FRANCIS REYNOLDS, was (supposedly) born July 31, 1883 in Green Island, so he would most likely be in the picture with your grandmother. I couldn't save the page/picture to my computer, but printed it out and will enlarge it to have a better look. Pretty exciting !!

Would just like to mention that I had an opportunity to meet some fellow TIGS listers recently who were working to prepare records for online research. A nice group of people doing some excellent work for us all and picking up some new skills along the way. That same day, I found the naturalization records for both of my paternal great grandfathers. That was a happy day. Both JOHN REYNOLDS and FREDRIK VOGLER were naturalized in the Troy Justice Court, instead of in Albany, where we had been looking.

Sheila

Jeanne,

My surname "Cranney" did have a link to my website but I just checked it and it does not show a link. Do you know what happened to the link?

Please do not remove the Cranney surname and let me know how to re-establish my link.

Thanks

Ginger

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

Wow you TIGS guys! Over the weekend I received over 40 messages from people wanting links to their surnames on the website or wanting to add new or more surnames. Obviously, this will take me while to complete, so please be patient and I will try and have everyone up to date by the end of the week. When I think I'm done I will send a new email to the list asking you to go in and check your names just to make sure I didn't forget you.

Thanks everyone, its so nice that so many people want to be involved in TIGS!

Hi Jeanne,

I see you have a big job ahead of you. For those of us, who are new here, it is a great help in trying to find our families. I had asked you to add ( Shaugnessy ) to my email name. But, I made a mistake, it is (Shanley). I hope you will be able to clarify this while you are making the additions and deletions.

Thank You,

Hi Bob:

I have added your email address to the surnames listed below on the TIGS website. As an aside there was a Nelligans Bakery Downtown Troy, on Third Street until only a few years ago. And the Nelligan Brothers are the organizers of the huge Irish Fest 2000 that takes place every year in Altamont NY outside of Albany. See:

Hi Jeanne,

Thank you. You are providing a great service to a rapidly growing list. My mother, a Nelligan, shopped at Nelligan's back in the thirty's and forty's. Long long before I got into this addiction. Unfortunately she never mentioned any familial connection, if there was one. Thanks for the info about Altamont. I'll check it out.

Hello all:

Well I think I processed everyone's requests to link or add surnames to the TIGS website. But I'm sure some of you may have slipped through the holes in my keyboard. So please go to the site one more time and check and see that all your surnames are linked to your email addresses or family histories and let me know what the problems are.

Thanks again. I promise this update will all be over soon!

Hello all:

Well I think I processed everyone's requests to link or add surnames to the TIGS website. But I'm sure some of you may have slipped through the holes in my keyboard. So please go to the site one more time and check and see that all your surnames are linked to your email addresses or family histories and let me know what the problems are.

Thanks again. I promise this update will all be over soon!

Jeannie, David could, and always has, forwarded me any information he finds. You could put Tolan, Flanigan and Hunt on my name, if you would. Thanks so much, Ellen

Jeanne -

My name is Helen Batters Rowley - and I am researching the surname Batters.

My great-grandfather Robert Batters, b. 1836, arrived in NY on May 30, 1864, with 5 children and his wife Mary Luby Batters. They settled in Troy where my grandfather had a meat market called Robert Batters Meat Market, 480 Second Street. One of their sons, Robert Batters b. 3.7.1860 (in Ireland) was my grandfather. My grandfather married Alice Purcell, b .9.8.1861, daughter of John and Johanna Purcell, on April 22, 1883. My grandfather and grandmother had 4 surviving children, amongst whom was my father Thomas B. Batters, b. 1.27.1893. Thomas and my Mom also had 4 children, and I am the third born 10.06.1950.

I am still getting all emails - which I love reading, but I guess I never got my e-mail linked to my family name. Can this still happen? Thank you for all your time and we are a lucky group to have your expertise.

Thanks again,

Helen Batters Rowley

What a busy lady you are! I'd have my hair pulled out by now.
Makes my task of researching family seem small.
I found my info. Thank you . It looks pitiful compaired to the fancy things others did but gets the job done. You'll be able to see my improvements as I learn more.
I tried to access SMITH but ended up in Stevens. I know that is the last thing you wanted to hear.
Have a good day and thank you again

Hi Stephanie:

I checked the Smith link and indeed it goes to a Stevens web page, however she did list Smith as one of her relatives and asked that the name that is there link to her site. Did you need me to add another Smith and link it to your email address?

I promise this is really the last call. If no one claims these surnames by tomorrow they will be removed from the TIGS website. SO if any of these names are yours, please, please, please let me know ASAP and I will link them to your email address. I would hate to remove anyone's family name (or variant spelling) by default. Hi Jeanne -

Hope I'm not too late. My family names, to which I hope you will attach my e-mail address, are:

Toomey
Mahoney
Keenan
Barry
Edney
Looby

Those who married the above Irish immigrants were:

Lyle
Sibbald
Ellis

Thanks for your help.

To our local members: If there is any interest in meeting for a bite to eat before our official meeting this Thurs. (City Hall, 6:30), please post something to the list suggesting a place and time. I believe we may have decided that the Ilium Cafe closes too early to meet there anymore.

Please add THOMPSON to the list of surnames. I tried before but evidently did it wrong.

GEORGE THOMPSON & CATHERINE MURPHY, THOMPSON 1830, were in the 2nd ward in the 1850 census, and in the 1st. ward in the 1855 census, lost track of them from there. I have followed their son's genealogy from Troy, NY to Utica MI.

Just for trivia interest----I recently had a library copy of A.Weise book on TROY sent to me in Leesburg FL. via inter-library book, from PA I believe.

Interlibrary loan is quite interesting. Last month researching VT, I had one sent on Montpelier, VT from a Virginia Tech library!!!! Just in case the local library is running short on copies. Since two of our links in the ancestors were involved with stove mounting, that information was very helpful.

PS. Does anyone know what a "pieman" is or does? Thanks, A. Connolly

Maybe I'm reading the census handwriting incorrectly; but I think it was something to do with mill work. I'll have to reexamine the spelling to see if it is the obvious and not some occupation I'd never heard. I learned what a moulder was because of these genealogy sites. Thanks. A. Connolly

HERITAGE HUNTERS MEETING TO FOCUS ON AREA CHURCH RECORDS

On Saturday, September 17, Ruth Ann Messick, professional genealogist, will describe the records available for Saratoga County churches, especially those identified in the WPA inventory created in the mid 1930's and those in the Saratoga County historian's office. Often church records are a good substitute for birth and marriage records when there are no civil records.

The meeting will begin at 1 pm at the Saratoga Springs Public Library, 49 Henry Street, Saratoga Springs. Bill Carr, computer interest committee chair, will review using files, folders and Windows Explorer preceding the presentation on church records.

Members are asked to bring information on Saratoga County records and repositories to share.

The meeting is open to the public, free of charge. For more information, call 587-5852. Heritage Hunters is dedicated to the study and preservation of genealogical and historical materials in and around Saratoga County, NY.

I hope you can make this meeting.

How many people out there continue that yearly ritual of making chili sauce? A year did not go by that our mother's and grandmothers did not do this chore. And chore it was as it took an entire day from early morning to night to complete. Not sure where the practice came from but most of the Irish families we knew followed it. You knew which house it was being made in as the aroma spread through the neighborhood.

I can still recall the spicy smell that lingered for weeks in our house on Burden Avenue long after the cooking and canning was done. My mother, (Mary Elizabeth O'Connor - 1901-1981), labored all day, while we were in school, washing and grinding bushels of tomatoes and peppers and then standing at the stove stirring the mixture for hours while it cooked down. As hot as the chili sauce was from the long red hot finger peppers, my father's, (James Joseph McGrath - 1900-1974), standard comment was "it's not hot enough!". Tell that to my mother who for days afterwards had burning hands and arms from handling the hot peppers and standing over the steamy pot that made sure the burning feeling entered your pores.

My family still makes the chili sauce according to my mother's recipe which most likely came down from her mother. I consider the recipe to be "McGrath's 100 Year Old Chili Sauce Recipe" and I do SHARE it. Two of my siblings, Peg and Bud, make the "recipe" this past week and yesterday it was our turn at our house.

I spent Thursday in the Engel farms field (near Albany Airport) picking a bushel of tomatoes, a bushel of sweet red peppers and a few dozen of the hot finger peppers. The last time I was in that particular field was on September 11, 2001 and the farmer came out to tell me the World Trade Center just collapsed. I was a frequent visitor to the World Trade Center when I worked since the Department of Labor had it's New York City offices there. Being in that same field Thursday brought back memories to me of that tragic day.

I will bring a jar of chili sauce to the next TIGS meeting so attendees can try a taste.

Regards,

Bill McGrath

Bill,

I just came in from my garden after picking about a half bushel of tomatoes and a few peppers. The peppers this year did not do well. The fruit is small and there isn't much of it.

I don't make chili sauce but have made about 12 pints of pasta sauce and have canned by last count 18 pints and a few quarts of tomatoes. A little later I will make some green tomato dill pickles.

I have dried jalapenos from last year and use them to spice up the pasta sauce when it's used. As you, my mother and grandmother were the teacher. I confess I rarely follow my grandmothers example of making three or four loaves of bread, white and brown, every Monday around the washing.

Sorry I'll miss your taste test.

Sorry I have to miss the meeting and the chili. I just finish making my supply this week. We grow our own tomatoes.

My husband Vince has had all kinds of hot peppers in his garden this year, most of which we gave away. Next year, if you and your wife can use some, in the preparation of your chili, we will be happy to supply you folks .

Unfortunately, I only have very little information regarding the Quinn family and they were from South Troy. Mary Ann Quinn (1853-1880) married Edward Powers. Her parents were Patrick Quinn (1822-1900) and Bridget Nolan (1830-1881). Patrick had at least one brother, Michael. They're buried at St. Mary's in Troy. This info came from the cemetery. I will keep your info in my files and if I come across something, I will drop you a note. Sorry I couldn't be of more help.

SURE BE GLAD TO!!!! Just let me know what you want me to do.

I have some great news on my family search. I am having a get together with some found family.

I am so excited about it !!!! Since one of the group is connected to my Grandfather's sister ( women typically being the ones to keep family stories alive) I got some more information about my Gr Grandfather Thomas and how he met my Gr Grandmother.

It seems that he was a broomsalesman. Since he was from Troy we are ASSuming that this is where the factory was located???? He came into our store to sell brooms and met My G GM Kate It is so neat to find another peice of the puzzle isn't it?

So sorry I can't attend the meeting and taste your chili sauce BUT would love to have the recipe.

I have been wishing I could be closer and able to help with all the effort the group is making.

I am so excited that I can actually help transcribe records scanned to me and can't wait for instructions to start.

I would love to put together a Troy Irish Families cook book. What do you think??

Or has that already been done?

Hi Stephanie:

You can still help! Would you like to do some transcribing of the documents we scan?
Let me know, we can use all the help we can get.

Pat,

I admire your work greatly.....can you help???I have a maternal grandfather who appears to have been naturalized in Troy in 1885. Still, I can only find one man by that name who was naturalized in 1882. I know that the waiting period was five years, and this is "under'....is there any other resource that I can refer to, to verify this. Gratefully, Mimi Coffey

Be sure to include chili sauce.

I remember the sauce in the kitchens of my grandmother and her 2 sisters. Maiden names were Ward.

I'm ready to buy a copy if it happens, and my husband has volunteered to be a "tester"

I think a cookbook is a great idea!

Also, I'm curious about the chili sauce--somehow I would not associate chili sauce with Irish cooking. Does anyone know the origins or history of that?

Perhaps it was for fried fish (just like today)?

Rebecca (obviously I'm not Irish)

There is a news item in today's Troy Record that Albany Aqua Ducks will be testing the market for interest in having the Aqua Duck in Troy.

There will be a trial run in Troy on September 27 at 5:30 p.m. for officials and media and then there will be two tours open to the public on October 15 at 1 PM and October 22 at 11:00 AM. Tom Carroll will be narrating the tour.

Some of our local people may be interested. I hope it is successful.

I also love the cookbook idea, Stephanie. One of my favorites in my cookbook collection is "The Ellis Island Cookbook," a collection of family stories and recipes from all the various immigrant cultures. I don't really cook from it -- the author decided not to try to edit the recipes for modern cooks in any way, so there's a lot of "pinch of this, handful of that" sort of stuff in it. But the stories accompanying each recipe are fascinating. It's a good read.

As a former food-section copy editor, I too would be happy to do recipe proofreading and testing on a project like this!

That is great news, Kay! And with Tom Carroll narrating the tour, it will be wonderful! We should get a group of local TIGS members together & go to it on one of the dates! Any interest out there?

I think that a cookbook is a fabulous idea! I belong to a garden club and we did one as a fund raiser. It was one of those spiral bound books. At the next meeting I could bring it so everyone can have a look.

My husband also loves chili sauce. We make it every year. There is something about the smell of it cooking in the kitchen.

Be sure to include chili sauce.

I remember the sauce in the kitchens of my grandmother and her 2 sisters. Maiden names were Ward.

I'm ready to buy a copy if it happens, and my husband has volunteered to be a "tester"

I was very interested in the discussion about this because I remember my parents telling me how common the smell of chili sauce was in the fall on the streets of Troy and Albany. They associated it with burning leaves and the other hallmarks of the autumns of their childhoods. My dad grew up on Sheridan near St. Patrick's in Albany and he said the smell was best from the convent where the Irish nuns made and stored it.

He said you could hear them sing through the open windows as they worked. My mom grew up on 8th street in Troy near its St. Patrick's and she recalled the wonderful aroma as well. I've wondered what the sauce was used with and why the practice declined.

I think a cookbook is a great idea!

Also, I'm curious about the chili sauce--somehow I would not associate chili sauce with Irish cooking. Does anyone know the origins or history of that?

Perhaps it was for fried fish (just like today)?

Rebecca (obviously I'm not Irish)

Hello Dave:

This posting on chili sauce has triggered a lot of wonderful family stories like yours.

For your information, chili sauce is great with corned beef, hotdogs, hamburgers, bologna sandwiches, etc.

This morning I had it mixed with scrambled eggs. Last night I had it with a hamburger plus a big helping by itself on my plate.

Regards,

My husband loves chili sauce on hamburger. Me I put it on veggie burgers. It is interesting that you mentioned St. Patricks on Sheridan and the convent. My great aunt also grew up near the convent. She would tell me that she would hear singing coming from the convent. She entered the convent in the 30's. I doubt though the aroma of chili sauce was her calling.

Have you read the 'Crazy ladies of Pearl Street'? It is a semi-autobio about growing up in the Irish slums on N. Pearl Street in the 30's and 40's. It was a wonderful book. My mom grew up on Livingston and remembered a number of the characters. The famous O'conners were even in it.

I was very interested in the discussion about this because I remember my parents telling me how common the smell of chili sauce was in the fall on the streets of Troy and Albany. They associated it with burning leaves and the other hallmarks of the autumns of their childhoods. My dad grew up on Sheridan near St. Patrick's in Albany and he said the smell was best from the convent where the Irish nuns made and stored it.

He said you could hear them sing through the open windows as they worked. My mom grew up on 8th street in Troy near its St. Patrick's and she recalled the wonderful aroma as well. I've wondered what the sauce was used with and why the practice declined.

I think a cookbook is a great idea!

Also, I'm curious about the chili sauce--somehow I would not associate chili sauce with Irish cooking. Does anyone know the origins or history of that?

Perhaps it was for fried fish (just like today)?

Rebecca (obviously I'm not Irish)

When we moved to a place that did not have space for as big a garden as we had before, I was able to stop the practice.

We then did not have spaghetti anywhere near the usual weekly basis. It was years before I could truly enjoy spaghetti again. Chili Sauce to the Moms was probably in the same category as Cod Fish Cakes and Spam - they probably couldn't wait to have a little more money and be able to stop eating it.

Personally, if I never see another Smelt (used to sell for 27 cents per pound in the Boston area in the 60's) for as long as I live it will be too soon.

My 91 year old mother tells me that her German immigrant mother made chili sauce and the family would eat it on bread. I suspect the recipe does not have any one ethnic origin but developed from people trying to preserve the available vegetables in whatever way they could.

Ruth,

My mom feels the same about the cod fish cakes. She can not stand cod to this day. As I was saying to David, she grew up on Livingston Ave. A blue collar irish neighborhood. Her father would always make cod fish cakes. An now that I think about it, what about that horrible cream tuna on toast YUCK!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! My mom tried to pass it off on us.

Though I would love to get a recipe for the cod fish cakes. Sounds interesting L

I would give my eye teeth to chomp in to a codfish cake such as my grandmother used to fry up for us. They were great with some ketchup on them. I think they were just the flaked dry cod and mashed potato for a binder. Then formed into cakes and fried in a little Crisco.

Now as for "Tuna Noodle" YUCK!!!!!! Is just the word for that!

Cod Fish Cakes Recipe

Cod fish cakes are a great duo with beans. Also, a little brown bread would be yummy.

1 lb. of salt cod

4 large potatoes peeled and cut in quarters

3 eggs

1/3 cup of parsley finely chopped

1 tbsp. of onion finely chopped

1/2 tsp. black pepper

Soak cod fish overnight. The next day pour off old water and add new enough to cover the fish. Bring fish to a boil. This reduces the amount of salt in the fish. If after the water boils the fish is still salty change the water and boil again.

Meanwhile cook the potatoes until tender. Mash the cod and the potatoes together. Add the eggs, parsley, onion, and pepper mix this well.

Shape into balls and flatten out to the shape of a patty. Fry them in oil until golden brown all over. Drain on paper towels.

P.S. If the mix is to moist use flour to dry it up but to much you want them a little moist.

If the mix is to dry use another egg to add moisture.

Yup. I still remember the smell of pheasant being cleaned in my kitchen when I was eight months pregnant thirty-five years ago. Consequently, I have never eaten and never will eat pheasant. But on the other side of the coin, I can still smell the aromas coming from the bakeries and am now drooling.

Thanks Lizette. The Crazy ladies caught my eye but I haven't read it yet. I'm afraid that it would first have to go to the bottom of a pile of unread books but I love anything having to do with Albany/Troy history. I recently stumbled across a reference to Troy in a Tip O'Neil biography. My original Troy ancestors were Michael O'Neil and Sarah Kelly. They immigrated to Boston in the late 1850ies and moved to Troy in 1866 where Michael worked as a teamster. Tip O'Neil had Kelly relatives and occasionally visited Troy when he was young.

My husband loves chili sauce on hamburger. Me I put it on veggie burgers. It is interesting that you mentioned St. Patricks on Sheridan and the convent. My great aunt also grew up near the convent. She would tell me that she would hear singing coming from the convent. She entered the convent in the 30's. I doubt though the aroma of chili sauce was her calling.

Have you read the 'Crazy ladies of Pearl Street'? It is a semi-autobio about growing up in the Irish slums on N. Pearl Street in the 30's and 40's. It was a wonderful book. My mom grew up on Livingston and remembered a number of the characters. The famous O'conners were even in it.

I was very interested in the discussion about this because I remember my parents telling me how common the smell of chili sauce was in the fall on the streets of Troy and Albany. They associated it with burning leaves and the other hallmarks of the autumns of their childhoods. My dad grew up on Sheridan near St. Patrick's in Albany and he said the smell was best from the convent where the Irish nuns made and stored it. He said you could hear them sing through the open windows as they worked. My mom grew up on 8th street in Troy near its St. Patrick's and she recalled the wonderful aroma as well. I've wondered what the sauce was used with and why the practice declined.

I think a cookbook is a great idea!
Also, I'm curious about the chili sauce--somehow I would not associate chili sauce with Irish cooking. Does anyone know the origins or history of that?
Perhaps it was for fried fish (just like today)?
Rebecca (obviously I'm not Irish)

Ok...now I want some chili sauce!! Anyone have a recipe they're willing to share.

I try to block out of my mind all the northern foods that I miss. Now I'm watering at the mouth for chili sauce. Usually it's just real Italian food...breads, pastries, etc. There are no good Italian eateries in the area of NC where I live. One of these days I'll talk one of my Italian friends into moving south and opening a restaurant near me!! Besides Italian foods, I miss Marty Burkes' corned beef and cabbage on Thursdays (along with the rye bread, cold butter and ice cold glasses of beer), Snowman ice cream, Ted's Fish Fry and Hot Dog Charlie's!

I grew up in Maine and Mom's frugal Friday night meal was codfish cakes. She used the canned variety of codfish.

I recently did a cookbook of family recipes for my kids and codfish cakes was one of the recipes. I remember that I hated them, and the recipe included "one cup of ketchup for dipping them into in order to kill the taste". Of course, mom was a pretty awful cook and I don't think the word "delicious" was in our family's vocabulary.

Codfish cakes were second only to Wednesday nights' canned Franco American Spaghetti, to which mom added browned ground beef, which was my first most "dreaded" meal!

If you are on-line Mom, I still love you!

Sounds like you people were lucky, you got cod-fish cakes. In my family with all 9 kids around the table my mother would prepare creamed codfish over a boiled potato for Friday night meatless dinners. I remember digging into the middle to eat the potato, the pile would slowly collapse and I don't know if she was fooled but it looked like I ate most of my dinner.

Hi everyone,

My name is Michele Connolly Lennon. I am originally from Troy, New York. But, I now live in Florida. We have been lucky this week with Rita skirting the coasts. We hope the same for the rest of the Gulf Coast.

My sister, Lee told me about the group, as I was trying to find some information on my late husband's family from Troy.

He was John Lennon, passed away at 41, 9/10.79.
Son of William Lennon who worked at McKesson and Robbins and Margaret McCarthy Lennon who was a teacher at St. Peter's School in Troy.

Brothers were William of Mechanicville, N.Y.. Robert of Eagle Bridge, N.Y. and Daniel of Troy/Latham. As well as sister, Noreen Lennon from Troy, who was church secretary at St. Peter's church in Troy.

I am looking for parents and grandparents of my husband's family, Lennon / Donovan, McCarthy / Kelly and Donovan.

Sorry, this was so long. I have really enjoyed reading all the posts, the talk about recipes and noting where everyone was writing from.

Thanks for all the information and the History on TIGS is amazing. The dedicated and hard working people sure do make a difference.

Thanks,
Michele

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

While my mother made her own cod fish cakes, we often had them from the can, Gorton's Cod Fish cakes. We love them on hard rolls with onion and catsup much like a hamburger. Now, do they still have Gorton's Cod Fish cakes in Albany/Troy, they don't have them in CA...plus, it has been a while since I have found hard rolls on my trips to the Capitol Area???

Aqua Ducks...they have similar vehicles in Dublin. When I was there a while ago, I was going to take my grand daughter on one, but we never found the time. They traverse the city and the River Liffey. I also think I have seen them in Washington DC. I'll be there this coming weekend and check it out.

Hey, Kay, how about we do one when I am in town next month?

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

I have found my great great grandmother, Ellen (Helen) Tracey living in Troy in 1860 with other Tracey relatives and three of her children. Missing from this census is Ellen's husband, John, and her father-in-law, Dennis. They were both iron workers and I am wondering if there was something going on in New York that may have called them away from home thus not appearing on the census. And of course where they might be. They were back in 1862 - that's when they bought the family house on Fourth Street.

Anybody have any suggestions??? I'm very experienced at wild goose chases all I need is a clue.

thanks,
Pam

Hello,

I don't know whether this would apply in your case, but my ggGrandfather is listed in two places in 1860:

at a residence in West Troy with his wife and child, and at the US Arsenal. In both places his occupation is listed as laborer at the arsenal.

Pam,
Did you look at the Burden Iron Works records on our website? There are several Tracey's, including John. Look at all 3 resources there. Our website link is below. Go to Projects, and then you will see "Death" "Marriage" and "Payroll" records links for the Burden Iron Works.

As far as them not being on the census, I've had to be quite creative in misspelling to find some of my ancestors. Try wildcard searches or alternative spellings.

Does anyone have info on St. Peter's records out there who can help Michele?

Good Morning Michele:

It's a small world.

Your late husband was in my graduating class of 1956 from Catholic Central High School in Troy.

I also got to know your sister Lee through the book sales I ran for 15 year's at St. Mary's Church in Crescent, NY.

Still remember Lee buying loads of history and biographies for your father.

Where would an ironworker from Troy be on the day the census enumerator came by in 1860? How about working on the railroad? Many railroads, I'd guess, rolled out of this area, in all directions. They could have been en route and so missed the count entirely. That they returned in 1862 makes me think they could have been involved in a military buildup to the Civil War, if there was such preparation going on.

TIGS has now started a major new project of automating the Rensselaer County marriage index (30,000 plus names) and are looking for more volunteers to help. The number of items to be data entered are minimal as shown by the following examples taken from the index:

Surname		ABEL
Given Name		JOHN C.
Volume Number	3
Page Number		125
Marriage Record Number	10249
Marriage Date		October 8, 1918

Some source documents have already been scanned and are ready to be emailed to volunteers. You need Adobe Acrobat Reader (download available free from www.adobe.com) and ability to handle excel spreadsheet on your computer.

If interested in working on this project, please write me off list at: seamus@nycap.rr.com and send me your name, address and telephone number. I will then email you the Excel spreadsheet and a pdf file of data to be transcribed.

I am one of six, and clearly remember codfish cakes on Friday night.. My mother would buy them(in a wooden box) at Albany Public Market....soften them in water overnight, and voila!!! Oddly enough, I married an Italian fellow, whose parents who also liked the salted cod, or even stocca fish...out of Norway...distributed in dry form all over the Mediterranean....sometimes known as Baccalla.....we have it, among other fish dishes, on Christmas Eve....small world. Mike I'm right with you, a big thing on Friday's in my family was Ted's fish fry's and Jean's Beans which was in Watervliet I think on 14th Street near Civic Center. We had 6 kids in our family and my mom and grandmother made the macaroni and tomato cheese cassarole. To this day I had so much of it as a kid I can' eat mac and cheese but I always love Teds.

Thanks, Bill, for facilitating yet another valuable genealogy project for TIGS. 30,000 names is an amazing amount of data, and many of us will no doubt find an ancestor or two among these names. Thanks to all who volunteer their help on this project.

I had a chance to log on, and found people talking about cod fish cakes. We didn't have codfish cakes. My mother & grandmother would get salt cod (Gordens I think it was) which came in a wooden box. It had to be soaked in water for about a day and 1/2 to get the salt out and then they made us creamed cod on boiled potatoes, with black pepper and sliced raw onions. I've found it in a few restaurants in Maine, but not many around Troy. Burke's is ok, but it just ain't like grandma used to make.

Does anybody remember Nelligans Bakery on 4th St. During Lent You could get your 2 or 3 pounds of fish, breaded and fresh cooked from their ovens every Friday. Folks were actually lined up down the sidewalk to get their fish to take home for Friday supper. (Us Irish kids had supper, not dinner.)

We used the terms interchangeably for the evening meal Monday through Friday but Sunday Dinner was early to mid-afternoon. Sunday evenings, though, we had a supper because it was a light meal .... I think we had supper on Saturdays as well.

Thank you for your grandmother's recipe. I recipe several from other people as well. Unfortunately, all have onions in them...I have a severe allergy to onions. It drives me crazy because there are so many foods I want to eat but cannot due to severe allergies (seafood and onions). Fortunately, I like to cook so I'm able to prepare many things myself and just leave out the onions. There are so many onions in the chili sauce recipes that I'm sure it would not taste the same without them. What do you think?

I would just eliminate the onions and then add some green peppers, garlic, and maybe some carrots etc. so the consistency would still be OK. Chili Sauce is like Spaghetti Sauce - anything goes as long as it tastes good.

Subject: [TIGS] Memories

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

I have been reading all of the notes submitted by the members of TIGS and they have brought back such incredible memories for me.

I attended St. Francis De Sales school which was just down the street from Nelligan's Bakery. One of the best things we could look forward to was to have an extra 5 cents (yes, 5 cents) and stop at the bakery on our way home and buy an éclair. I know I badgered my parents over the years so I could buy an éclair - my favorite.

I will never forget the aroma of chilli sauce simmering on the stove. Do you remember going to Mass and the whole church smelt of chilli sauce?

Like every other Irish American, my Fridays were filled with Cod Fish cakes (in my family they were covered in tomato sauce). Another favorite was creamed cod. To this day, one of my favorite's is creamed cod. Whenever I feel down or disconnected, I know that if I make creamed cod, I'll feel better

Dear Kay,

I am working on the flyer for the Speaker for the November meeting. I want to put parking information on the flyer. I remember discussing the parking. If I remember correctly, we were going to look into parking in the Troy Savings lot or the Court House lot. Some one was going to look into it and get permission. Do you remember who was going to?

I looked in the minutes and didn't see anything. I thought you may have something in your notes.

You are all making me homesick! We left Troy in 1962-lived in Ohio,Wisconsin and Illinois-still here. We moved 5 times and I still miss Troy. Teds FishFry is the first place we stop when we go back-no matter what the time. Our kids all loved Teds and we have never found the likes of it anywhere. I've tried to duplicate the way they fix it-but it isn't the same. The sauce they put on it is a lot like chili sauce-homemade. The fish is a white fish cut lengthwise, breaded and deep fried. Good. We always go to theTeds in North Troy-River St. There is always a crowd there. I worked at Nelligans while at CCHS and loved the Sugar buns, right out of the oven.

I think all Irish mothers cooked creamed cod (the dried and salted in the wooden box) We had it over cooked potatoes. I had an idea my Mom wasn't much of a cook until we went to Ireland for a month in 1987. I found out she was definately an Irish cook! We were there for 2 weeks before we realized that creamed potatoes on the menu were really mashed! She also liked baked fish with the head on - ugh. Wish we could go back to Ireland-what a wonderful trip and the the people-so friendly. We rented a car and stayed at B abd Bs 2 weeks and traveled all over. Then, we rented 2 cottages, one in Dungarvan and one in Galway. The food was excellent and the weather was great. We went in Sept. We really felt ant home there. great memories. Rita

The salt cod I remember that came in a wooden box was Gorton's of Gloucester. They no longer make it. It was a frequent Friday night dinner at my great aunt's either in codfish cakes or as creamed codfish. My mother also made codfish cakes but I don't recall her making creamed codfish.

Forget Gortons!!! Froogle turned up the good old Vermont Country Store for $12.95/lb instead of $25.95 (Plus exorbitant freight).

They insist on shipping by priority mail but it is only 10.95. I ordered two pounds as it will keep refrigerated for a year.

Cod Fish Cakes am a comin' there's good news tonight!!

The Aqua Ducks are derived from the World War II amphibious vehicle, DUKW. It was a 2 1/2 ton amphibious truck designed to be launched at sea, it has a propellor to be used in the water, when it gets to the beach it rolls on tires. I think it was the first vehicle to have tire pressure adjustable by the driver from inside the vehicle. The reason was to be able to partially deflate the tires to run over sandy beaches but then restore the pressure when they reached firm ground.

They are in use in Hot Springs, Arkansas in Lake Hamilton and in Washington in the Potomac River.

There are companies that restore them.

Hi Jim,

Thanks for the info on where to obtain the salted cod, I'm ordering it today. It was one of my favorites, both creamed and fried.

I also make my grandmother's chili sauce, we always loved it with our toast for breakfast!

Umm good!

Categories: GENEALOGY TIGS

This project is a fabulous idea...it will be great to have an index for marriages that occurred in Rensselaer County from 1908-1935!

I would be more than happy to volunteer for this project, although I do need clarification on a couple of questions that have been in the back of my mind.

Will the final database appear on the TIGS website? Do we have clear, definitive permission from the County Clerk's Office to do that?

If not, what form will the database take? Will it be on a CD? I assume that a copy of the CD would be given to the County but who else would have a copy? Would there be 'look-ups' done by one person or by several people who have access to the CD?

Please forgive my inquiry if this information has already been posted to the list and I simply missed it. As soon as I have this clear in my mind, I will ask that my name be added to the list of volunteers working on this project.

Thanks!!

Thanks for asking about this, Marialice, so that it can be clarified for all. Here's what I have found out, after looking into this:

Because these are records to which the public already has access (in accordance with state law), it is not necessary to obtain written permission to copy them, and/or put them on our website or a CD, etc. Prior to starting this project, TIGS representatives did personally meet with the Renss. Co. Clerk, Frank Merola, as a matter of courtesy and good faith. Mr. Merola is fully aware of our intent and purpose, and is agreeable to this project. In fact, I was told that he welcomes our work on this, because it will simplify answering the requests for information that are made to his office.

It is my understanding from reports and discussion at our local meetings by Bill McGrath and other volunteers for this project, that our plan is to eventually post the records on our website, and a CD copy of the records will be given to the Renss. Co. Clerk's office for their use in answering inquiries.

I trust this answers Marialice's questions, and clarifies this for all our volunteers. Thanks to everyone who is donating their time and effort on this project. If you have an interest in working on this, please contact Bill McGrath, who is organizing this project's volunteers, at seamus@nycap.rr.com
