PATRICK J. DELANEY was born in Ireland July 4, 1863. His parents were Martin Delaney and Julia Tracey. When he was an infant, the Delaney family came to Troy, and here the subject of this sketch has since resided. He was educated by the Christian Brothers and then entered the employ of the Burdett & Smith Co., stove manufacturers, as book-keeper, where he has since remained. He represents the Twelfth Ward in the Common Council, and has frequently acted as chairman of that body. He is a member of the J. C. Osgood Steamer Company, the Robert Emmet Association and the Bachelors' Club. For so young a man, Alderman Delaney has attained a remarkable prominence in the community.
