

William H. Haynes.

William H. Haynes.

WILLIAM H. HAYNES, son of Winslow Haynes and Catherine Pillion, was born in this city in 1851, and has lived here all his life. He was educated in the public schools and the Christian Brothers' Academy. Upon leaving school he determined to learn the trade of a carpenter. He served his apprenticeship with George W. Oliver, and then formed a copartnership with John Bulmer, under the firm name of Bulmer & Haynes, contractors and builders. These gentlemen have been very successful in their business. Mr. Haynes served as president of the Boss Builders' Association for three successive terms. He is a member of this association and of the Edward Dolan Association. Mr. Haynes' estimable wife, Miss Lizzie Bulmer, to whom he was married Oct. 12, 1878, died Jan. 23, 1889.
