Subject: [TIGS] TEST from List Administrator, and/or Roll Call

I've gotten some queries off list about the seeming lack of activity on the list, wondering if it has to do with the AOL problem. I have received few bounced messages. We do not have Archives, so there is no way to check what's been posted.

Let's do a test, in the form of a roll call. In the subject line, post your surnames you are researching. Or just put TEST if you like. But PLEASE, let me know if your posting does NOT then show up as a posting to the list.

Thanks,
Donna

Coyle and Caulfield.

Yes, there was a problem with AOL and Rootsweb last week due to Rootsweb changing its address and AOL treating the bulk messages like Spam. This has been resolved and mail is once again moving.

I recently discovered a listing for an ancestor whose place of death is listed as "Nail Factory." I am aware of what the nail factory was, but unsure of meaning as the place of death. Does that mean he literally died there (at work), or was housing of some sort provided?

Today, I reactivated the surname rosters on my website. In doing so, I shortened the information to keep the submission short, to the point and using only one line. However, hopefully, there is enough info for someone to recognize a connection if there is one. If you have submitted your name, please check to make sure I didn't change the submission so it doesn't reflect your information. I have added the convenient form at the bottom of the registry to make changes or for you to submit new surnames.

You can access the webpage by going to the URL below my name. Under New York State, click on Troy. You will find links to the two surname webpages that are in alpha order.

Mike,

The Bolands I am looking for are Dr James Boland who was married to my aunt Kathleen Shea. Jim was the Rensselaer County Health Commissioner during the 40s. At least he held that position when I was born in 1843 and during the 4 years I was paralyzed with polio. He and a Dr. Trotter, John I believe from County Clare, came up with a regimen of medicine and exercise which worked until I was actually able to move and it continued till I was about 6 or 7 when I was walking again. I believe Jim died in the 50s. They had three children James "Jamie", Kathleen and Betima. I know nothing about his family and have been looking for a while. Kathleen and the children moved to Syracuse and I never saw them again. My cousin Kathy is married to a Quirk according to my brother, Tina moved to Texas and Jamie was a CPA in Syracuse last I heard.

I'm afraid that's all I know.

I would like to solicit any opinions about the census indexes of the pay sites especially Ancestry.com. I looked at an image of a name (in St. Lawrence Co NY 1830) that would be close to one I was looking for. It was a close spelling given possible phonetics and mis-transcription of letters like a cursive R and N. Down the page was another "Mc" name that I could not make out, but with some creative interpretation could be close also. When I looked up ALL the names in that town, it did not appear in the index. I have seen instances where Ancestry actually indexed a questionably spelled name 3 times with 3 different spellings for the same name/image. Have many of you seen instances for a very messy name not being indexed at all? I hope so or I can not find the guy I am looking for.

Thanks for any ideas.

I, too, am having a problem finding any information on my grandfather's military service. He was born in 1901 but was raised in St. Vincent's Orphanage in Albany. I found him in the 1910 census living at the orphanage with two brothers but there is absolutely no record of him in the 1920 census. I then checked the 1930 census and found that he served in the cavalry during the "Mexican Expedition". My guess is that he lied about his age since this expedition was happening at the start of WWI (around 1917-1921?). I have checked all NY military records but can find nothing relating to the Mexican Expedition. Does anyone know where these records are kept?

Thank you

I don't know about Ancestry, but I know the Family History Library in SLC has the same problem with extracted records from the microfilms. They triple check a name with three different people before putting it in their IGI. But, if there is a name they cannot make out, especially in the very old films of other countries, they skip it. There is nothing like scrolling thru a film yourself to find the folks you are looking for, because the spelling and/or writing of the name by the census taker could be quite creative. You are the one who has a vested interest in finding a certain name and your eyes will be sharper for variations. For clear images of the older censuses, I personally like genealogy.com, but I find more people when I scroll through myself. Unfortunately, this is a pain when researching in a city like Troy or Albany, but it was relatively easy when doing a small area like Rotterdam in Schenectady.

Hi Pat,

Yes, I did check NARA. The Mexican Expedition wasn't considered an actual war. It's when American soldiers went after Poncho Villa (spelling?). They never did get him and most of the soldiers from that expedition were sent to England when WWI began. My grandfather did not fight in WWI so the Mexican Expedition is the only information I have on him. Since I live just 15 miles from Pittsfield I even went to their records holding area but still could find no information on soldiers that served in this expedition. I do have a picture of him in his cavalry uniform; that's how I knew he was in the cavalry but I don't know which branch.

Thanks for the help, though.

I have yet to find much out about the Careys in the family. In the 1880 census with my great-grandfather, Michael Shea, is listed Bridget Shea - mother and Bridget Shea - wife. When I obtained Michael Shea's death certificate it had Michael Shea - father born Ireland and Bridget Carey - mother born Ireland. I have yet to find any other information other than what I found from a cousin on The Island (NYC) who said his grandmother, my grandaunt Anna, went to Ireland with him to Waterville, County Kerry in 1978 and found a soliciter and priest who knew the family. I wrote to the parish priest in Waterville and never recieved a reply. I hope to relocate the address for that church and try again. I would suspect Bridget Carey, Michael's mother, and Bridget Dunn, Michael's wife, were both from County Kerry but I have no proof. Michael and Bridget Dunn were married in Tralee in April 1861 sometime before leaving for America. He joined the 26th CT Vol Inf in October 1862 in!

Norwich, CT but he and Bridget gave 1861 as thier naturalization date on the census. Michael was discharged in 1863 after losing an eye during the siege of Port Hudson, Louisiana.

So unfortunately I only really have the name Bridget Carey as the mother of Michael Shea.

Hey Mike,

I tried Ancestry.com about two years ago. I knew everything I needed to know within a week. But I was signed up for the rest of the year. Then they constantly teased me with the idea that I was going to receive more knowledge for the more additional modules that I signed up for. They were always dead ends. You have to hand it to them they know how to market and sell and they are not above taking someone else's hardwork and adding it to their data bases. The most exciting thing they had while I was subscribing was the British Isles databases and that ended up being another dead-end. It's a very expensive endeavor that you can find elsewhere for a better price and more in-depth information at that. The Mormons have it all, but that's work if you want to do it. Good luck. jd

TIGS Meeting 1/15/04

My intent was to get these notes up much sooner BUT due to unforeseen family events I have been unable to until now. My apologies for those that anxiously await news of our meetings. By now both Bill and Frank may be in Florida so I hope they have lap tops.

Attending this month were Jeanne Keefe, Frank Ryan, Kay Brearton, Marialice Mangan, Donna Vaughn, Lizette Strait, Margaret McAlonie, Michael McAlonie, Kris Ayotte, and Bill McGrath came in after the completion of formal business.

We had a very short cocktail session due to the extremely cold weather, surprised at how many people ventured out. Had to be one of the coldest, windiest nights we have had, BUT there we were. Met at the Grove Restaurant near Hudson Valley Community College.

Donna had prepared an agenda for the evening and we did our best to stick to it. We had everyone introduce themselves as there were some new people there.

Agenda Items

Ideas for our Website

1. (Donna Vaughn) Donna is working on a section that will be devoted to Green Island, she has a source that was written up for the bicentennial of the village and will be referencing that as well as her own knowledge of GI.
2. (Lynn Carey-Grice) The connection between the village of Emly, Co. Tipperary in Ireland and Troy, NY was tabled until Lynn Grice can attend.
3. (Lynn Carey-Grice) Some discussion was held on transcriptions of old newspaper articles. This is open to all of us and how to do it was the main concern. The article would need to be copied at the source (library, etc.) and then scanned into your computer. If you do not have a scanner it would entail typing as a word document then copy, paste and save as HTML was offered up by those present with computer knowledge. These articles would be used as reference on our website.
4. (Mike and John, Lynn Sisk) The next agenda item was a suggestion by several list members including Mike McAlonie, who was present, that we have a section on the website devoted to West Troy/Watervliet. Mike, in general, would like to compile a list of photographers, including this area and Troy, with their years in business and address. He hopes this might help in identifying old photos for list members. This began a lively discussion by Lizette who would like to do an article on Waterfront Activity in the area. This too would be posted to the website and she welcomes any list member to volunteer information.
5. (Marialice) The next item was Troy Resources and of course they are discussed quite a bit on the list and Bill McGrath has consistently offered up further information. It was suggested that Bills "articles" be posted as a web feature.
6. (Pat Connors) Purcell's Funeral Home was a topic as a fire was mentioned. Seems everything goes up in smoke, alluding to records that are lost in fires. I personally have spoken with relatives and they do not know what became of the records. Some of the list members have received personal E-mail from Mrs. Purcell's' granddaughter, Melissa, in response to requests for information. With that Lizette questioned how we would compile a list of funeral parlors that existed in Troy. Not sure if we came up with an answer.
7. (Marialice) Next agenda item was a request from Marialice that each of us on the list do our best to give a time frame with our stories posted to the list. This discussion led to other "little" details, such as changing the subject line on our responses to the list, eliminating forwards and the use of Reply to All. We agreed and I volunteered to print out some of the great "Recollections" that have been posted as we do not have an archive. Perhaps one day we will do some personal publishing from these items. Jeanne Keefe suggested we tape record the meetings for inclusion in future personal publishing for the group, this was tabled for a future discussion.

8. (Mary Dunn) Next agenda item was to identify many places in Ireland that sent significant numbers of people to Troy, as well as the rough time periods of those migrations. By this time in the meeting there were a lot of different discussions taking place. Lizette made note that the internet has sites available showing where families migrated from and where to. Frank informed the group that Irish web sites show name patterns in Ireland and where they migrated to.

9. (Pat Connors) Pat has graciously gotten the "TIGS" website up and running and was looking for a volunteer. I can assure Pat that there were several volunteers who are not quite computer literate, other than E-mail. However, Jeanne Keefe has offered her services on a temporary basis. Jeanne is quite capable, in fact is in charge of another web site currently for a professional group that she belongs to. She will take over the reins and has offered to train Mike McAlonie and myself in the mysteries of web site hosting.

Structure of Notes

(Kris) I had put this up as an agenda item to get some input as to what people are looking for following our meetings. At the meeting I was told that my " summaries" were A-Okay with the group, so I will continue to post them.

Looking forward I will do my best to follow the agenda items as posted prior to the meetings. Keep in mind this is an informal group and at times there have been 3 or 4 conversations going on at one time. Hopefully without losing the flavor of the group we will become a little more orderly and notes will be easier kept. I may even limit my intake of Budweiser to concentrate more fully!!

Future Field Trips

(Donna) By this point in the meeting Bill McGrath had arrived and as usual had ideas to share. The Watervliet Arsenal has a museum of documents from the area; we will look into visiting as a group. The Mohawk Hudson Industrial Gateway Building in South Troy was mentioned as a source of information for the Burden Iron Works. Jeanne mentioned the Albany Catholic Diocese Archives and will look into it for us.

Future Business

We will meet next on March 20th at the Grove at 6:15. We will continue to look for varied meeting places.

New Business

We will continue to look into meeting places such as the Troy Library and look for other suggestions for the group.

Jeanne Keefe and Pat Connors should contact one another concerning the web site. Mike McAlonie and Kris Ayotte should contact Jeanne Keefe to arrange training sessions at Jeanne's convenience.

Bill McGrath has suggested that we have an extra table at our meetings for a show and tell. Members have been bringing some interesting items to the meetings and passing them around, pictures, articles, books, etc.

When Jeanne has taken over the website we will continue to seek a permanent volunteer from the list. Items that have been posted to the list would be compiled and sent to the web for posting.

Marialice is interested in putting together "Murders in Troy" from obituaries in early papers. This brought up copyright laws, Homeland Security and HIPPA concerns from Jeanne, so need to be looking into further before we post.

Credits and citations would have to be given.

Thank you, Kris! As usual, you have done a thorough job.

I did want to clarify #7, however, as it was not my understanding that the entire meeting be tape recorded. I believe it was the intent that if anyone wanted to record a "story" for the idea of possible future publication of these stories by the group, that following the meeting, the taping could be done if desired. Is that correct? I was at the end of the table and it was hard to hear with the side conversations going on. But I do not think it was the intent of the group to tape record the entire meeting. However, we did table this as you said, and can discuss further at the next meeting.

Which leads to my next question: The next meeting is mentioned in the minutes as March 20. Did we decide to forego a February meeting? Again, forgive me, I was having trouble hearing a lot of the meeting.

Thanks, again, Kris. You have certainly put a lot of time and effort into this, and it is appreciated.

I lived in Troy, where I was born, for 35 years and still miss it. This Site is so-o nice and I hope to give and receive information on our Irish heritage. Although I have the Web Site of Carrignavar in County Cork where my Mannings came from, I still haven't verified their existance there.

Keep up the good work all you 'Genies' Thanks again.

Hi List,

I just called to Ancestry.com to tell them I did not want to renew my census collection because I also have Genealogy.com. Since I had the years subscription they are giving me one more month for free. I did sign up for the new Immigration collection that they just put on line. Since I have 30 FREE days for census and immigration lookups I figured I would try to make it worth while. I am only sending this to TIGS list so I don't get bombarded with requests.

If anyone would like a look up in the census or immigration records I will gladly do it. Please give me as much information as you can about the person (or people) you would like me to look up. First and last name, spouse's first name, any children you think they might have, approximate year person lived in what city/state, a range of years that person might have immigrated, etc. I will do my best to find your information. This detailed information is necessary especially if the surname is common.

One other thing: I can either mail the census sheets to you via snail mail or e-mail them to you BUT please, if you want them e-mailed please make sure I have your own e-mail address. I don't want to crowd the TIGS list.

REMEMBER: This offer is good only to March 17th. After that I plan on not renewing my subscriptions.

Ginger, I would appreciate look-ups for two families

Jeffrey and Harriet Donahue (name may have been O'Donohue or another spelling to make things complicated). Jeffrey was from Co. Tipperary and Harriet was from the city of Limerick. They married in 1873 and came to America soon after, family tradition says on the White Star. They were in Essex Co, NY in Sept 1874. I don't know what port, my guess is NYC.

James Aird, wife Margaret, and children Mary (who died at sea), David, MARGaret, Jane and Jessie. They were from Dalkeith, Scotland, came to the US 1853 and settled in Albany. By 1860 they had moved north to Hamilton Co.

Thanks for looking. Mary

Many thanks for your generous offer.

The June 1850 federal census in Troy, New York, lists Anthony and Bridget McDonald, ages 26, Sally McDonald, 50, and Catherine, age 2, all born in Ireland, and James 1/12, born in New York.. Listed in the same household were Anthony Maloy, 14, and Margaret Maloy, 17. I've looked high and low for ship records to no avail. Range of immigration years are 1848-50. It's possible Sally and baby Catherine could have come separately. I'm skeptical about a rumor saying a grandma stayed behind with a baby and when coming over, one or both of them drowned.

In about 1857, the McDonalds by then had three extra children and moved to Minnesota. I've worked off and on on this family for 30 years and haven't been able to find anything about their early years in Ireland.

Would you please check your records for this family? If your membership includes state census's, please check New York's State 1855 census records.

Subject: [TIGS] Will Do Census & Immigration Lookups

Hi List,

I just called to Ancestry.com to tell them I did not want to renew my census collection because I also have Genealogy.com. Since I had the years subscription they are giving me one more month for free. I did sign up for the new Immigration collection that they just put on line. Since I have 30 FREE days for census and immigration lookups I figured I would try to make it worth while. I am only sending this to TIGS list so I don't get bombarded with requests.

If anyone would like a look up in the census or immigration records I will gladly do it. Please give me as much information as you can about the person (or people) you would like me to look up. First and last name, spouse's first name, any children you think they might have, approximate year person lived in what city/state, a range of years that person might have immigrated, etc. I will do my best to find your information. This detailed information is necessary especially if the surname is common.

One other thing: I can either mail the census sheets to you via snail mail or e-mail them to you BUT please, if you want them e-mailed please make sure I have your own e-mail address. I don't want to crowd the TIGS list.

REMEMBER: This offer is good only to March 17th. After that I plan on not renewing my subscriptions.

Ginger

When I was small and lived in Oakland, California we had a large neighborhood of Irish around us and my mother who was going to school over in San Francisco after she finished high school had to go live with a lady know as "Mama June" who was her aunt. The unusual thing was that Mama June was a Fortune Teller and she didn't like the term. She was born in County Cork and her mother who was a seer had almost been put upon by the locals for making a false prediction, but most of the other times she was correct. Well Mama June really had a reputation around town and a pretty good class of people who came to her home for readings and this is how she supported her self. She is noted for finding a murderer in 1949 and they called her the Irish Fortune teller which just sent her into titters. On some nights she had readings just to keep in shape. She use to put me on her knee and she had a very strange talking voice and a brogue so thick she needed an interpreter when she talked on the radio. But she talked to me one time and I went home that night and the next morning I got up and I made myself a piece of cinnamon toast and looked out the window and there was a large deer standing there as she said there would be. Then I went over and laid on the couch and we had a heater in the middle of the living room and that's when this little woman dressed like a peasant followed by a little man stepped out of the stove door that you opened up I guess for air to get inside. I can't remember what the woman told me, but it had something to do with it will be all right. Then she waved to me and stepped back inside the stove. Later that morning when my parents got up, my mothers sister came by the house to tell her that "Mama June" had died during the night. My Irish mother said that fortune tellers and seers were common in Ireland in those days. I know that not all of you are pure Irish but did you have a fortune teller or seer in your family? jd

Subject: [TIGS] Troy Record Article - This Day in 1904

Several years ago while researching my paternal grandparents - Mary and Patrick Gallagher - I checked St. Joseph's cemetery records. I learned that not only were my grandparents buried in the cemetery plot, but another couple also named Mary and Patrick Gallagher were buried in the plot. I obtained death certificates on the second couple and learned that they were brother and sister and the children of my grandfather's brother, Denis who had died in 1894 of a fractured skull from a fall down a pair of stairs at my grandparents' residence. I learned from her death certificate that Mary had died in 1904 as the result of injuries suffered in a house fire. I looked up the newspaper article and read how horrific her death was.

In today's Troy Record in the section called "Twentieth Century Chronicle: This Day in 1904", the original newspaper article is published. She was 20 years old and it is believed that she may have been carrying an oil lamp that set her clothes on fire. The Fire Chief Patrick Byron stated that the sight which met his eyes when he entered the bedroom was the most horrible he ever witnessed. Her brother was also in his 20's when he died a few years later apparently from natural causes.

I was quite surprised when I saw the article in today's issue of the paper.

I think what JD means is that natural causes sounds like what an 80 year old would be said to have died of, in their sleep or something. If it is cancer or another illness it usually says "died after a brief/ lengthy illness", I think? But then again I have not been reading the obituaries for all that many years. Mike

Subject: [TIGS] 1900 Fed Census, Troy NY, update

In 1900 Troy NY was still an industrious town, plentiful with jobs. Many people from NYC and towns along the Hudson River went there to work. My own family are found in NYC, Brooklyn, plus the counties of Orange, Westchester, and Albany and Troy in Rensselaer Co in different census years depending where they went to find work. It makes for a lot of fun when we try to follow them around 100 or so years later :-)

With some great volunteers and three years of our lives, we transcribed the Troy NY 1880 federal census and then 2002 we started on the 1900 census. The transcribers have completed their work and I have gradually been able to get most of it on line, ward by ward. Today I started getting the 4th ward on line. It includes 4,587 individuals, 622 dwellings and 1,035 families. Transcribers to thank: Art Boyne, Bob mcConihe, Gwen Beiermeister, Pam Warren, Kay Brearton, Colleen Wheeler, Christine Dunham, Herb Phelps, Ron Mauer, Lynn Grice, Denise Jones, Kathy Janus, Eileen Guinee, Bob Yoder, Mary Nigro and Gary Craver.

Please remember when checking for your ancestor that you must keep an open mind when looking for your surname. For example, if you are looking for Casey or Carey, I suggest you check both names because with some handwriting they looked exactly alike. One of the enumerators of this ward had a hard time with spelling, not only last names, but first names and occupations. We transcribed it as he spelled it. Then if you add poor handwriting plus scribbling all over the surnames, there is a lot of room for mistakes. Again, I must say, use these on line indexes as a resource. If you think you found your ancestor, check the census itself. If you think your ancestor should be there and you don't find him/her in the indexes, again, check the census itself.

You can access the 4th ward at the URL below my name. At my homepage, at the top, under New York State click on Troy. On the Troy webpage you will find a link for the 4th ward. Tonight I got up four spreadsheets and hope to get them all uploaded between now and Monday.

Yes I understand what you are saying about how you die from disease, but to die at age twenty with no apparent disease is unnatural I would think. I am not trying to start an argument and please don't respond, the statement just hit me wrong when I read it. Even for the good old days dying at age 20 of natural causes would not be natural. Just another opinion, that I should have kept to myself, but I couldn't help it I am Irish. jd

Hey Mike, thanks for the support. So your taking up the old ladies sports page as they use to call it. I have noticed here in Atlanta the Obits have gotten very personal and they are very well done. You can't help but not notice them. I just hope when I go out it takes up two full pages. One side should be devoted to those who loved me and the other side to the ones who can't stand my guts. Now that is living. Who was is that said, "show me a man who doesn't have something he would die for and I will show you a man who doesn't have a life worth living."

Hey the NARA is closed Monday for the Dead presidents day, so it will be Tuesday night before I will be getting back to you. But I will do my best my young wise friend. jd

Pat, would you have any idea what ward 200 Ninth St right there at modern day Hoosick would be in? When my ggreatgrandfather came to this country he immediately went to Wisconsin where acreage was .10 cents an acre. Imagine walking up to the clerks office and getting Five dollars worth of land. But any way he moved to Chicago for a little while and then the word started to spread like wildfire as early as 1880 that Troy was the place to be. He headed east working his way along the Erie canal as a labor and by the time he got to Troy he was a Superintendent on the Barge Canal. Now that's upward mobility. But towns like Troy and Butte, Montana were real Irish draws. Thanks for your help, jd

On a much more positive and HISTORICAL note about the school in the news, a calendar was done about 3 years ago by my friend at Columbia High School. She and a few motivated students wrote and phoned as many WWII veteran Columbia High School students as possible and had them, about 12, come in to speak individually to her class and for an after school luncheon to speak to the students. It was very interesting and a great experience for the students. Sadly at least 3 of the veterans have died since then. They also printed and sold calendars with short biographies and photos of the veterans for each month. The money raised, about $700, was donated to the USS Slater DE-766 in Albany for its restoration. I bought several extra copies and they are just sitting here if anyone wants me to mail them one. Let me know if anyone is interested in the names of the veterans honored also.

One of my gggrand folks died at 311 Eighth St which is just (a dozen houses?) south of Hoosick. Right near Wm. H. Young monuments which has been there for well over a hundred years on the corner of Hoosick. If the numbers run similar I guess 200 9th would be a few blocks south. No clue about the ward.

If any of you out of towners have any places of interest you want photo'ed just make a list and one of these days I'll get in the car and drive around and take them all. Pat you previously mentioned an address of interest. I'll e-mail them to you on the list or otherwise. Let me know.

Looks like the 7th ward. Check the map of the 7th ward on the 1880 Troy census at:

I will be working on the 5th ward next and then the 7th ward. It will be a couple of

Tom,

You have the correct address for St. Mary's Cemetery. I suspect your letter has been placed in a large pile of such requests. I know that if you call the cemetery office, you will most likely be told that you must put your request in writing. The most effective plan of attack is to visit the cemetery office in person. I have done this on several occasions and have always found the people to be very helpful. I have even heard of instances where one of the groundskeepers took the researcher right to the gravesite. Of course this depends on how busy they are. So, if you do make a trip to Troy, try visiting the cemetery office. It is located right at the entrance to the cemetery.

I never heard any stories like that. I asked my mother and neither had she. I always thought the old school Catholic Irish were very religious, and that sounds like something the church would frown on, like the Masons. From the old stories I heard the parish priest was the Head Cat in Charge in town and what they said went, and were like a celebrity.

I get a kick hearing about the old school priests, far from being stereotypically gay and all the other terrible things you hear about now. My father told me stories about the priests at Catholic High. Father Mulqueen, smoking Italian cigars and beating the hell out of boys who got young girls "in trouble" as you used to say. Nuns cracking hands with pointers and open handing someone in the face for a cross look. I guess that's why my father would always make a point of it at my parent-teacher conferences to let the teacher know that beating me was most definitely an acceptable option for discipline. And then the teachers would let me know how well the conference went the next day, with a smile on their face.

Anyone have any good priest/ nun catholic school stories that would get our minds off of the terrible stuff we hear every day on the news and radio about the church? Just 1 minute ago on the news another priest was found dead in Watervliet. When will it end. I remember when I was a boy my father would take me to the Provincial House Nunnery in Latham (which has a nice view of Troy) to visit elderly nuns who taught him and to show me the graves of his old teachers. Sister Anna-Regina and Sister Mary Leo. How I remember that I don't know. He would rave about what great teachers and disciplinarians they were, and how today it was not the same. To a kid there's not much funnier than a story about a nun knocking out teeth. As long as its not your teeth.

-Mike

Mike, Your father must have been in CCHS the same time I was-1942-46. I remember Sr. Anna Regina (1st yr home room) and how could I ever forget Mulqueen!! That's another story. But I do remember the Nuns and their kindness when my father had a stroke and I was worried about him. Sr. Cornelius-office secretary-let me use the phone to call home, but only if Fr. Mulqueen was not around! For family reasons I had quite school in my sophomore yr. and worked, then went back as a Jr, taking soph. classes in the AM and Jr. classes in the PM. It was only from the understanding of my teachers that I was able to do this. So, I have fond memories of the Sr. of Mercy and the Sr. of St. Joseph.

Most of all I remember Fr. McManus who became my Mentor and friend down through the years-always able to give me spiritual and sensible advice when I asked. I know he is in Heaven now. He was the epitome of the Priesthood. I was in Australia when he died or I would have flown into Troy for the funeral.

Also Fr. Flynn, a great Priest. I don't remember seeing too much discipline then-it was the war and everyone was serious. It was a good school and I always felt blessed that I was able to go there, even though I had to work after school.

It taught good values and I learned much about the Church-the right things!

Haven't found them in either 1880 or 1890 Census, but Michael Manning was in the Troy Directory in 1890, under that address. Another source showed his wife Margaret living at 329 9th st. when she died, in 1919.

Tom,
I went to St. Mary's today to visit my mother's grave so I decided to stop in their main office to get your information on Manning. It seems that the main office is only open by appointment and all their records have been sent to St. Agnes in Menands. So - I went to St. Agnes. I spoke to a very, very nice woman and she was able to find your g-grandfather Patrick. I did not go back to St. Mary's in Troy today but I will be in the area Wed or Thurs. I will try to get pictures then. Here is the information on Patrick Manning:

LOT #: 39
OWNED BY: MANNING, PATRICK
DEED #: 4067
DATE OF SALE: OCTOBER 20TH 1902

DATE	NAME	GRAVE #
10/19/1902	Maria Manning	3
10/12/1908	Thomas Manning	2
10/09/1909	Patrick Manning	4
10/13/1911	William H. Manning	5
11/29/1948	Mary A. Manning	1
09/23/1961	Helen C. Manning	6
10/15/1963	Loretta Manning	4

I have a copy of the actual card from St. Mary's index, a map of the cemetery with the location of the Manning graves and a copy of the pages from the large ledger book that all names were written in. I will send these copies to you either by e-mail or to your snail mail address, which ever you would like. The information that was in the ledger for PATRICK MANNING is:

NAME: Patrick Manning
LAST RESIDENCE: 384 Fourth Ave. (I assume in Troy)
AGE: YEARS: 60 MONTHS: DAYS
DATE OF DEATH: 1909 October 9
CAUSE OF DEATH: Broncho Pnuemonia (exact spelling) DATE OF INTERMENT: 1909 October 11
PLACE OF INTERMENT: Section F, Lot 39
LOCATION: South side of center
NAME OF UNDERTAKER: T. F. McGuire (or McQuire?)

I hope this informaton helps.

Ginger,

Thanks for posting your message to Tom regarding St. Mary's cemetery records on the list. It's important information to know that the records have been transferred. I assume that the records of St. Jean Baptiste cemetery, which were in the keeping of St. Mary's, have also been sent to St. Agnes. Do you have an address and/ or phone number for St. Agnes?

I think you might be referring to St. Mary's Cemetery in Schenectady. St. Jean Baptiste did join St. Mary's in Schenectady but the St. Mary's that I was referring to is on Brunswick Road in Troy. I might be wrong but you may want to check.

The news is that the government has information on people who served in the Mexican Exposition, but you have to write away for it in St. Louis. I have the form which I will scan in and e-mail to you. But the archivist seem to feel there was an easier way to do it by going straight to the web site for NARA in St. Louis.

Maybe it ties in with the Irish communities that sent folks to Troy.

I have uploaded the 1860 July to Dec 31 alien declarations for Irish Born to the Rensselaer county AHGP website. It includes not only those who reside in Rensselaer county but people from all over NY state and MA. Troy was at the height of their industrial power at the time and it attracted many from the surrounding counties, states and from the NYC area. You can access the naturalizations at the URL below my name. At my home page, under New York State, click on Troy. There will also be a link at the Rensselaer county website at:

<http://www.rootsweb.com/~nyrenss2/>

Under Genealogy, click on Naturalization/Citizenship.

Information given in the declarations include, name, age, port they left from, date they arrived in the USA, where they resided and the date they filed the declaration. There are almost 300 names for the last half of 1860.

Just a friendly reminder from your List Administrator. Please change your subject line if you are no longer discussing what is in it. I've opened several that still indicate "Agenda" when there is another topic in the Email now being discussed. This can be confusing to the list members. Plus, if you later want to go back and read about the "new" topic, it may be more difficult to find it in your mailbox without the appropriate subject line.

I think this might be an organization we should join. I don't know how many are on the mailing list, but if we all chipped in a dollar or two, we could join the organization. They would help us with both organization and direction.

BTW, the conference looks wonderful, but costly.

I know many of you have mentioned young ancestors working in the collar factories and woolen mills. I called this woman and it turns out our grandmothers were sisters.

I somehow saw this tiny ad in small Rensselaer County paper "the Advertiser"

"Assistance Needed for History Project: For a history project a local writer seeks stories of children working illegally in the garment industry in Troy or Cohoes. If you know or know of someone who worked as a child during the early 20th century, Please call Amy Halloran at 274-5138 email ahall@capital.net "

Hi Tom,

I am in the process of sending nine pictures of your g-grandfather's grave to your own e-mail address. The reason I am posting this to the TIGS list is because sometimes my e-mail doesn't work right. If you do not get the pictures please contact me at HyTekRedNeck@Taconic.net Ginger

Mike you just find relatives all over the place, you should invite Ms. Halloran to the next TIGS meeting, I'm sure the group would have some interest in her project.

I'm searching for anything on my Manning and McKeown families. Parents: Michael Manning and Mary Connell from Carrignovar in Barrymore, Cork, Ire. Also John McKeown and Catherine Moriarty from Cork Centre 5, Cork, Ire. Their children settled in Troy about 1881. McKeown relatives lived near Hoosick St. and 10th. St. Patrick's and St. Peter's Churches.

I grew up with some McKeowns but I am at a loss as to their first names right now except the one son who was Billy (William). Have a brother that will know and will send along. Their dad owned "McKeown Vending" here in Troy, he put jukebox's, cigarette machines, etc. into business. The kids went to St.

Peters School with me and my siblings.

Will try to get more information.

In fact I have an old leather check book type holder with McKeown Vending printed on it, it was given to my Dad and he used it for years until he passed away in 1969, I held onto it for sentimental purposes.
